QUEBEC RADIIATES CANADIANISM ALL OVER DOMINION

Spirit of Canada Was Born in Quebec Among French-Canadians, Who Never Refer to Any Land But Canada as Their Home, Says Hon. L. A. David at Canadian Club Luncheon

Quebec radiates Canadianism. The spirit of Canadianism and the mentality of Canada was born in Quebec and from there has spread all over the Dominion, Hon. L. A. David, Provincial Secretary and Minister of Education of Quebec told a Canadian Club audience in the course of a stirring address at the Empress Hotel this afternoon.

Mr. David remarked that in Vancouver yesterday his party had been described as "the so-called French of Quebec."

"I don't mind that," he added, with a smile. "Compared with what used to be said years ago it is an improvement."

"On the banks of the St. Lawrence there is a little people with which you have much in common, and whose differences don't amount to much."

"I ask you to consider this question, Who there was a British Canada without Quebec?"

"When Britain took Canada there were 65,000 French people in Quebec. To-day we are 4,500,000 throughout Canada and the United States. What will we be in one hundred years?"

"I don't believe, ladies and gentlemen of Victoria, that your forefathers came here as early as my forefathers came to Quebec. They came in 1608, and they never referred to any other land but Canada as their home. We French people were born here, we are living here, and we want to die here!"

"The spirit of Canadianism, the mentality of Canada, indeed, was born in Quebec, and from there has radiated all over Canada."

SCORES ANNEXATION TALK
Referring to the idea that Quebec was the home of a sentiment in favor of annexation to the United States, Mr. David recalled the attempt of the revolting American colonies to secure the support of the French people against England.

"What was their answer?" he demanded. "The French people replied, 'We will not sign a treaty which will respect it, even at the cost of our lives.'"

Again in 1812, he recalled, the French people joined the British in the Seven Years' war, and prospered as it promised to be.

"We believe," he said, "that there is something more than money in this—that our social ideals are more important than filling up the sky with sky-scrapers."

In 1848, he pointed out, a petition in favor of annexation to the United States was circulated in Montreal and of 158 persons who signed it only three were French.

"Doesn't this show that we appreciate the liberty, the fairness of the British constitution?"

To illustrate one change in British sentiment towards Quebec, Mr. David pointed out that instead of the traditional English garrison, an all-French regiment now held the ancient citadel of Quebec.

"I suggest to you," he added, "that you think of this and do not listen too much to gossip. Our admiration, our respect, our allegiance is with England for all time."

Referring to the Confederation pact, Mr. David remarked that a fixed constitution must involve sources of dispute but, "we prefer a constitution whose dangers we can see than one whose dangers we cannot see."

"You call yourselves men of the West. That sounds well in the mouth but bad in the heart. In Quebec there is no East and no West."

"It is a pity that there is not a more frequent contact between the West and the great French-speaking province of Quebec, which has contributed so much to the history of Canada, both before and after Confederation," said Kenneth Ferguson, president of the Canadian Club, who extended the welcome of the gathering to the visitors.

Nearly 150 members of the University of Montreal party now touring Canada were guests at the luncheon. Among them was Mlle. Hortense Cartier, daughter of Sir George Cartier, the great Quebec statesman, and Mrs. Chipman, daughter of Sir S. L. Tilley, another Father of Confederation.

Two Haitians Killed By U.S. Marine

Port Au Prince, Haiti, July 20.—A United States marine serving as a military policeman shot and killed a Haitian laborer, mortally wounded another laborer and slightly wounded a woman to-day. Accounts conflict as to the cause of the shooting, and the marine will be taken before a court to-morrow for examination.

United States marines are serving in Haiti. An armed constabulary was established in 1916. This includes officers and men of the United States Marine Corps.

Vancouver, July 20.—Pleading guilty to an infraction of the Minimum Wage Act, the Model Dress Company was fined $25 in police court here to-day, the company agreeing to reimburse the employee to the extent required by the act.

BRITISH CABINET DISCUSSES NAVIES

Ministers Hear Bridgeman's Report and Consider Course at Geneva Conference

Baldwin, to Leave For Canada on Saturday, Talks With King

London, July 20.—The entire Cabinet met with Premier Baldwin this morning in Downing Street to discuss the Geneva naval disarmament tangle. Another meeting will be held to-night at the Premier's office in the Parliament Buildings, at which will be present Right Hon. W. R. Bridgeman, First Lord of the Admiralty and head of the British delegation to Geneva, who is expected to arrive from Switzerland some time during the day.

British officials and the press are taking a philosophical attitude toward the differences at the conference, and there is a general disposition to scout suggestions that the conference had broken down and to support the view that a compromise will be reached.

The Cabinet meeting to-day was something in the nature of a departure from the routine of the past few days. Before the Cabinet met Premier Baldwin had an audience with King George, at which it is believed they talked over the whole situation, as well as discussed the Premier's visit to Canada.

DISCUSSION DESIRED
Geneva, July 20.—Out of a mass of early suggestions as to the course of the return to London of Sir Hon. W. C. Bridgeman and Viscount Cecil, the chief British delegates to the Three-Power Naval Conference here, emerged the understanding that they had merely been invited by Premier Baldwin to go to London in order to permit final discussion of the conference situation before the Prime Minister embarks for a tour of Canada.

MANITOBA M.P.'S TO MEET IN AUTUMN

Special Session to Pass Act For Sale of Beer by Glass

Winnipeg, July 20.—At the Manitoba Parliament Buildings here clerks under the supervision of the provincial returning officer, the busy making the final compilation of the vote polled in the beer referendum held June 28.

The official vote is expected to be announced by the end of the week. The final returns placed the majorities in favor of the glass sale at $6,000 and little change is anticipated when the official results are made known.

NO LOOSE LEGISLATION
The result of the referendum means that sale of beer by the glass will be in licensed premises under government control. Standard hotels and clubs of recognized association, such as war veterans, will be granted licenses to sell beer. It is anticipated, but the legislation to be enacted, it is forecast, will be very strict and will not permit of indiscriminate issuance of permits to questionable clubs, roadhouses, cabarets, etc. Already hundreds of requests for licenses have been received by the Liquor Control Commission, but there will be no suggestion of the old bar, chairs and tables taking its place.

SPECIAL SESSION
Premier John Bracken, Attorney-General W. J. Major and W. R. Cottingham, K.C., legislative counsel, are at present in Vancouver following a visit to the western provinces making a survey of the liquor laws and will likely extend their investigations to Eastern Canada. Following their return to the city, late in August, a beer sale act will be drafted, and it is now expected a special session of the Legislature will be called, probably late in September or the first week of October.

Following enactment of the beer legislation, opening of parlors will be a matter of but a few weeks.

SYSTEM STUDIED
Vancouver, July 20.—For the purpose of studying the sale of beer by the glass in British Columbia, Premier John Bracken of Manitoba has arrived in Vancouver, accompanied by Attorney-General W. J. Major and W. R. Cottingham, K.C., legislative counsel.

While on the coast they will confer with Hugh Davidson, Liquor Commissioner, and Attorney-General Manson.

VANCOUVER DEATH
Vancouver, July 20.—Emily Murray Bagdall, aged seventy-five, widow of Dr. George Bagdall of Comox, died here to-day.

STUDIO PLANNED FOR VICTORIA

This is the main building of a new movie plant which may be established in Victoria by an English producing organization connected with Matheson Lang. The plans for the buildings have been completed here by Thomas D. Sedger, architect. Estimates for the work have been turned in by local contractors and sent on to London. The estimated cost of central production hall, pictured above in Mr. Sedger's drawing, is around $40,000. Options have been taken on three sites adjacent to Victoria for the erection of buildings.

This movie project is privately financed from London and has nothing to do with the company which is to be assisted by the city as a result of the film by-law passed here last week.

IS ILL IN LONDON; J. OGDEN ARMOUR

London, July 20.—A favorable report on the condition of J. Ogden Armour, chairman of the board of the Armour Company of Chicago, meat packers, who has been seriously ill here, was issued to-day. It was announced the improvement had been maintained, but that he still needed complete quiet and was unable to receive visitors.

Post Office Department to Send Man to Convention in Europe in Fall

Quebec, July 20.—The matter rests entirely with the Post Office Department, said Hon. J. L. Ralston, Minister of National Defence, when asked here to-day what the prospects were for Canada having an air mail service.

"As far as I know," he said, "the Post Office Department is doing all it can to get the service inaugurated, but there is nothing new as yet. I understand an official of the Post Office Department will go to Europe this fall to attend an air mail convention. I am aware also that the department is giving a great deal of consideration to the question and it appears likely something definite will be done following the European convention. I understand the question of my sphere of activities, I cannot say anything positive on the matter."

Party Will Reach Port of Quebec August 12 and Travel Westward

Ottawa, July 20.—The programme of the British editors who are to arrive at Quebec on Friday, August 12, promises to be a full one. Word has been received that the Prince of Wales will be at his ranch in Alberta on August 24 and will receive the party there.

The first stop after the party leaves Ottawa will be Winnipeg, and there the travelers will be entertained by the Government of Manitoba and the press club of that city. At Regina the Saskatchewan Government will be the hosts and the Alberta Government will entertain the distinguished visitors at Edmonton.

The fight will start at 8 o'clock Victoria time. It is scheduled to go fifteen rounds, each of which will be of three minutes' duration. The interludes between the rounds will be one minute. If the bout goes the limit it will be over by 1 o'clock.

Three in Hotel Were Burned to Death
Chicago, July 20.—Three persons were burned to death and four, one seriously injured in a fire which swept through the Sves Hotel here early to-day.

George Perron, eighty, leaped from his third-floor room, but sustained only a fracture of one leg.

Gus Anderson, fifty-two, William Pearce and an unidentified man were the victims.

Quebec Police Seek Two Men and Woman; Taxi Driver Was Killed

Montreal, July 20.—Local police to-day continued an intensive search for three people, one a woman, who are suspected of murdering A. Bouchard, a taxi driver of Lachine, last Sunday night, near Huntingdon, Que., who came to Montreal after being turned back at the United States border. The suspects are George Vance, alias Palmer, Doris Vance, his wife, and a crooked man who gave his name as McDonald.

Beyond the fact that the three had not paid for a local hotel after the murder, they have dropped out of sight, leaving no further trace of their movements. It is feared that profiting by the sixteen hours' start they were given before the police began to work on the case, they made good their escape to the United States.

The body was not found for some time after the crime.

London, July 20 (Canadian Press Cable).—Major-General Sir George Norton Cory, member of a noted Nova Scotian family, has been appointed to the command of the 50th Territorial Army Division with headquarters at Catterick, Yorkshire.

Sir George Cory, son of Charles D. Cory, Halifax, N.S., was born December 26, 1874, and entered the army in 1895. He served in the South African War 1899-1902, was twice mentioned in dispatches, and for heroic services received the Queen's medal with seven clasps and the King's medal with two clasps. He also gave distinguished service in the Great War, during which he was twice mentioned in dispatches.

$250,000.00 FIRE
LOSS IN TORONTO
Toronto, July 20.—Fire which broke out in the office of the Canada Furniture Manufacturers Limited here at one o'clock to-day completely gutted the four-story building, causing an estimated loss of $250,000 to the company. A strong easterly wind, which was blowing at the time resulted in the greatest fire threat this city has known since the disastrous fire in 1891.

The St. Lawrence Market to the south of the Imperial Bank and other buildings to the east were all threatened and the firemen were forced to play streams of water on all adjoining buildings.

SUPPLIES OF RUBBER TO BE INCREASED

Scientists in the Dutch East Indies Discover Method of Bud Grafting

Yield of Trees Can be Increased Fourfold, it is Stated

New York, July 20.—The New York Herald-Tribune says scientists experimenting on rubber plantations in the Dutch East Indies have developed a system of bud grafting through which the yield of rubber trees can be increased fourfold. Through application of the new discovery, says the newspaper, which comes just at the time when Thomas A. Edison hoped to give the market a substitute for rubber, the price of crude rubber will be cut from 25 to 10 cents a pound.

NEW PLANTS NEEDED
"The new discovery is tremendous," Frank B. Henderson, president of the New York Rubber Exchange, is quoted as saying. "It means the rubber industry has been able to solve its problem from the inside and it is only a question of time when competition will necessitate the supplying of all existing areas with new plants employing the new method."

The principles of bud grafting established by the late Luther Burbank, naturalist, form the basis of the new discovery. The Herald-Tribune says. Spreading of the new process will ultimately result in the cost reduction of automobile tires, surgical instruments and flooring material, Mr. Henderson says, and will mean the doom of the present process through which old tires and scraps produce 34 per cent of "crude" rubber used in this country at present.

Delay in the receipt of permission from Ottawa to move their boat house in the waters of the Gorge is responsible for the failure of the James Bay Athletic Association to vacate their old clubhouse on Belleville Street.

R. F. Taylor, president of the J.B.A.A., this morning explained that the association is anxious to get away from the old building as quickly as possible and permit the C.P.R. to carry on their improvements, but that they cannot move the boat house until Ottawa gives permission to anchor it on the Gorge.

"I have already explained this to Mayor Hendry," said Mr. Taylor. "At first we thought we could tow our boat house, in which we have equipment valued at $6,000, to a position off the new club quarters at the Gorge and anchor it. We discovered, however, that we had to obtain authority from Ottawa as the boat house would be in waters under Federal control. We applied to Ottawa for this authority a month ago and are now awaiting the necessary word."

CITING ONE INSTANCE OF THE NEW DISCOVERY, THE HERALD-TRIBUNE SAYS SCIENTISTS IN THE DUTCH EAST INDIES HAVE PRODUCED 5,000 POUNDS OF RUBBER PER ACRE ANNUALLY WHERE ONLY 800 POUNDS HAD BEEN GROWN OVER A PRECEDING SIMILAR PERIOD.

C. O. Usborn of Vancouver Plans to Make Voyage to Honolulu

Vancouver, July 20.—Vancouver may be represented in the air race to Honolulu on August 14 for the $25,000 prize offered by James D. Dole, it is announced.

The local entry is Major Curson O. Usborn, former Royal Air Force pilot, who plans to make the flight in a Puker biplane. He is an experienced aviator and a member of the Air Force Club of British Columbia, which is giving its moral support to the undertaking.

Major Usborn has purchased the machine which will be shipped to Vancouver early in 1925 for the use of Major Pedro Zanni, Argentine round-the-world aviator, whose flight ended near Tokyo after a disastrous crash. The plane has been in storage here for two years.

GASOLINE SPACE
Major Usborn is faced with providing for increased gasoline space in the plane and efforts are being made to construct a special wing for this purpose. This will not permit shipment of one from the Puker plant in New York and it may be constructed in Vancouver.

Flight tests will be made to find if there is a long enough take-off in the Vancouver district for a heavily loaded plane. If fields on Lulu Island prove unsuitable, a special airway may be constructed near the cliffs at Point Grey to enable the plane to get away much as small planes leave ships at sea.

Major Usborn was trained at the Gosport Air School in England.

A LONG STRUGGLE

Bucharest, July 20.—King Ferdinand and of Rumania died at 2.15 o'clock this morning and his grandson, Prince Michael, five years and nine months old, succeeded him on the throne.

The Regency Council was sworn in at 4.30 o'clock this afternoon before the National Assembly. The Assembly cheered King Michael, who was accompanied by his mother, the Princess Helen.

Paris, July 20.—A Havas dispatch from Belgrade says reports from Bucharest reiterate that the most perfect order prevails throughout Rumania and that troops have occupied all public buildings.

Michael, the new King of Rumania, is a son of former Crown Prince Carol, eldest son of the late King Ferdinand, and his former wife, Princess Helen of Greece. He was born October 5, 1921, and was created heir-apparent on December 31, 1925, on his father's renouncing his rights to the succession.

Some time ago a Regency Council was appointed for Prince Michael, the regency consisting of Prince Nicolas, twenty-three-year-old son of King Ferdinand, the Patriarch of Rumania and the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court.

DIED AT 2.15 A.M.
Bucharest, July 20.—King Ferdinand of Rumania, long falling ill, died at 2.15 o'clock this morning.

The monarch's long and courageous battle with that dread malady, cancer, came to a close at the Chateau de Pailshof at Sinalia, the summer residence of the Rumanian royal family.

The end came with suddenness and extreme rapidity, but was peaceful in the extreme, the king closing his eyes calmly as if falling asleep. Members of the royal family were at his bedside, Queen Marie and their daughter, Queen Marie of Yugoslavia, having arrived before death came.

Former King George of Greece and his wife, Elisabeth, another daughter of the Rumanian King and Queen, also were present.

DEATH WAS EXPECTED
Ferdinand's death, had long been expected and even the simple country-folk, who loved him more as a kindly father than as a king, knew the disease which he was so courageously battling would be fatal.

Recently rumors flew thick and fast and for days at a time reports would spread like wildfire that he had died. These would meet official denial and then encouraging reports would come—that the king was recovering daily, that his condition was steadily improving; that he was able to take part in councils of state.

But these favorable reports failed to deceive and the blow that fell to-day was long feared and long expected.

The awards were made at a banquet given to the members of the crew of the America and to Clarence D. Chamberlin.

It Rid the System of Rheumatism

Lasting relief was obtained when the uric acid poisons were cleansed from the system by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

After all there is nothing like Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills to get rid of the poisons in the system which cause pains, aches, lumbago and rheumatism. Dr. Chase's Liniment affords relief from the pain but to get rid of the cause it is necessary to go deeper and regulate the action of kidneys, liver and bowels.

Mrs. Ada Kincaid, Drayton, Ont., writes: "For years my husband suffered from rheumatism. He tried treatment from many doctors, but received little relief. He also tried several remedies recommended, without avail. Two years ago after he had been unable to move or turn in bed for several weeks, a neighbor came in and recommended Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. I went down and purchased a box of these, which seem to have entirely relieved him, for he has never had an attack since. I take great pleasure in recommending these pills to anyone suffering from rheumatism."

YOUNG MUSSOLINI OF BALKANS IS DOWNED BY CZECH REPUBLIC

How General Gajda Met Defeat at Hands of Scholar Masaryk

Prague, Czechoslovakia, July 20.—Radola Gajda, the most dazzling adventurer-Czechoslovakia has ever produced, stripped of his powers and his uniform of general of the Czech army, sits dejected in his fine mansion near Prague. His retirement personifies the greatest victory European democracy has won against fascism since the war, but it is the darkest chapter in the life of the young man of thirty-six who has had the Czech republic by the ears for over eight years.

When the Czech people had the issue squarely presented to them—Masaryk and Benes versus Gajda—they promptly chose the former. It was not only a victory for democracy, but it was also a victory of French political philosophy and policies over Italian.

HAD ROMANTIC RISE
Gajda was a Moravian peasant farmer's boy. He left the hay-pitching for apprenticeship in a druggist's shop. When the great war broke out, being a subject of the Austro-Hungarian empire, he was drafted for the army.

The knowledge he picked up in the druggist's served him in good stead. He rendered first aid to his fellow Czech soldiers and was soon known as "Doctor."

With hundreds of his fellows he arranged to desert the Austrian armies and fight on the side of the Serbs. He was with them in their famous retreat through Albania. He went with them to Corfu. Next he turned up in Russia fighting in the ranks of the Czech soldiers. He took part in the epic march across Siberia and came out with the rank of general.

As general, he was sent by his grateful little country—now given nationhood by the allies—to the great French military school of St. Cyr. He got quick promotion when he returned to Prague and was soon chief of staff of the Czech army.

But he was not satisfied. He listened to Italian whippers.

All over eastern Europe, France and

Radola Gajda, leader of Fascism in the Balkans, who has met defeat in Czechoslovakia.

Italy are at cross purposes. Each seeks to be the dominating influence in the Balkans. The French still believe in democracy. The Italians tout fascism. A dazzling picture was dangled before Gajda's eyes.

He was the idol of the old Czech

Fall of Fascism Is Seen As Victory for French Diplomacy in East

legionnaires. He was the big man in the army. Why not make himself boss of the country? All over Europe democracy was a failure. Italy had its Mussolini, Spain its Riviera, Hungary its Horthy, Turkey its Kemal Pasha. Why should Czechoslovakia not have its Gajda?

A Czech fascist party was born. Its idol was Gajda. But the democratic rulers of the country were quick to act. One fine day Gajda found himself bounced from his job and retired from the army. The city merchants, the country peasants, the bulk of the soldiers stood by the government. Wise old President Masaryk and his brilliant young pupil, M. Benes, minister for foreign affairs, had won.

FASCISM BURIED

Only the other day Masaryk, just re-elected president for seven years, pronounced in Prague the funeral sermon over Czech fascism and Gajdaism.

"The modern state," he said, "is democratic. I know democracy has considerable defects. But I am opposed to the opinion of those who speak of the failure of democracy or at least of parliamentarism. The other forms of government also have their defects, but history shows that democracy is only at its beginning, while the old forms of government were developed during thousands of years."

"We live in an intermediate period. The defects of parliamentarism can be corrected. Its capacity for work can be augmented by technical reforms. In a democracy it is not sophisms nor the mailed fist which avail, but argument, debate, discussion, the rule of violence, and of all religious, political, national, economic and social privileges."

Practically all Czechoslovakia applauded. Henry, who is attending to business of the association here, said that this organization has already settled more than 400 families this year, and has 800 additional families temporarily placed. These are coming from Europe to be settled during the balance of the year. He estimated that, if present crop prospects materialize, settlers placed by the Canadian Colonization Association will produce in new wealth this year about $6,000,000, and reduce their indebtedness by about half that amount.

The work of the association, which is subsidiary to and operated without profit by the Canadian Pacific Railway, has been mostly confined to settlement in the three prairie provinces, but Mr. Herzer indicated that this year it had made considerable settlement in the Okanagan district of British Columbia and might be expected to extend its work to Ontario and the Maritime Provinces in the near future.

Of those who come to Canada under the auspices of the Canadian Colonization Association, he said, the percentage of failures is very small, this no doubt due to a large extent to the fact that no settlers without sufficient finances are encouraged to settle on unimproved lands.

NORTHERN CHINESE SEIZE SALT REVENUE

Tientsin, July 20.—Following the example of other provinces, the authorities of Chihli have notified the representatives of the powers concerned that they are taking over control of the provincial salt gabelle, amounting to $12,000,000 annually. The powers affected have dispatched representatives to the salt station at Tangku in an endeavor to prevent the seizure of the revenue.

Under an agreement made in 1923 between the Chinese Government and foreign powers, the salt revenue was

BOMB PLOTTERS AT NICE ARE HUNTED

Nice, France, July 20.—Rigid police control has driven the crowds away from the United States consulate here, where all traces of the bomb outrage yesterday have now disappeared.

The identity of the person who exploded the bomb in front of the consulate is still unknown, but the police hope he will be behind bars before many hours. The local police say it was another Communist outrage.

A big group of radicals along the Riviera within the next few days is said to have been planned by the police.

No one was injured when the bomb exploded yesterday, but Colonel James T. Boates, a retired officer of the United States marines, narrowly escaped injury from flying glass.

THREE GUNMEN ON TRIAL IN ILLINOIS

Benton, Ill., July 20.—The story of how gangsters' bullets cut down Mayor Joe Adams of West City, Ill., for a price of $100 was related yesterday at the murder trial of three gunmen by Harry Thompson, nineteen-year-old slayer of Adams.

At the direction of the gang leaders, Thompson testified, he and his brother Elmo went to the Mayor's house December 12 and asked his wife to call him to the door.

"I had my pistol up the sleeve of my sheepskin coat," said Thompson. "I let it slide down easy, grasped the handle, and opened fire."

Elmo fired, too, he said. They fled to the cabin of Charles Birger, his chieftain, where Connie Ritter, whom he described as a Birger lieutenant, paid them each $50 at Birger's command.

Birger is on trial for murder, together with the two fellow henchmen, Art Newman and Ray Hyland. Elmo was slain in gang warfare.

Harry Thompson pleaded guilty to slaying Adams several weeks ago and was sentenced to life imprisonment by Judge Charles Miller, who is presiding at the Birger trial.

CACHIN AND DORIOT IN PRISON IN PARIS

Paris, July 20.—Marcel Cachin, a member of the French Parliament and leader of the Communist Party in France, and Jacques Doriot, another deputy, now behind the bars of La Santé prison in Paris, have failed to obtain their release through legal channels.

The two deputies were sentenced to imprisonment on charges of inciting soldiers to disobedience.

"Above all," said M. Doriot when entering prison yesterday, "Mr. Jaller, don't let us go free on mere telephone authority."

This had reference to the release from the same prison of Leon Daudet, the Royalist leader, and two other men on a fake telephone message alleged to have been sent by the Minister of the Interior.

"We will take good care of you," responded the jailer.

J. L. S. HUTCHINSON OF SASKATOON DIED

Saskatoon, July 20.—J. L. S. Hutchinson, aged forty-six, president of the Saskatchewan Hardware Company Ltd., one of the founders of the Retail Merchants' Association in Saskatchewan and former vice-president of the Saskatoon Board of Trade, died at the Mayo clinic, Rochester, Minn., Monday night, according to word received here.

He is survived by a widow and three children.

TORONTO PUBLIC UTILITY INVESTMENT GROWS

Toronto, July 20.—In his annual report for 1926, Finance Commissioner Ross says the City of Toronto has a total investment of $88,000,000 in publicly-owned utilities. In addition a further $11,000 has been pledged for the ratepayers' share of local improvement.

Canadians Are to File War Claims

Ottawa, July 20.—Claims of Canadians for damages growing out of German activities during the Great War must be lodged with the arbitrator appointed under the Treaty of Versailles before October 23 if they are to receive consideration. It has been officially announced here.

Publication will be made in Saturday's issue of The Canadian Gazette of the notice of the appointment of Helge Kjaestad as arbitrator.

PLANE BUILT FOR SOUTH POLE FLIGHT

New York, July 20.—Bernt Balchen, who was relief man of the New York France aeroplane America, revealed today that he will sail for Holland August 1 to attend to the preliminaries of Commander Richard E. Byrd's next great adventure, a flight over the South Pole.

Balchen will go to the aeroplane factory of Anthony Fokker at Antwerp, where a plane is being built similar to the "Miss Josephine Fort." In which Byrd crossed the North Pole last year.

As soon as the plane is completed and has been accepted by C. N. Kinkado, Wright motor expert, now in Europe, Balchen and Kinkado will fly the ship 1,500 miles to Norway, where it will be dismantled, packed and shipped to this country.

ELECTRIC CULTURE, TESTED 20 YEARS, SHOWS LITTLE HOPE

Washington, July 20.—After twenty years of experimenting, the United States Department of Agriculture is still trying to discover what effect, if any, use of electric methods has on the development of plants.

Tests are still going on at the experimental farm of the department under the direction of L. H. Flint of the Bureau of Plant Industry. But Flint reports nothing conclusive has as yet resulted from foregoing experiments.

As far back as 1907 the department started rigging up wires to test the effect of electric currents on plants. Most of these experiments in "electroculture" sought to find some relationship between increased growth and the passage of an electric current through air and plants from an overhead system of wires, discharging at high voltages.

These tests went on to 1917, when the war and negative results stopped them. Then in 1923, the British Min-

MANY ENTRIES FOR FLOWER SHOW

Everything Now in Readiness
For Show at Crystal Gardens
on Friday and Saturday

The Summer show of the Victoria and District Gardeners' Association, which is to be held at the Crystal Garden on Friday and Saturday of this week, promises to be one of particular interest to flower lovers. Present indications auger well for its success. A blaze of color will meet the eye of the public when the doors of the show are opened, on Friday afternoon by His Worship Mayor J. Carl Penderay at 3 o'clock. Excellent weather conditions during the last few days have prompted many an exhibitor to enter some of the finest specimens of Summer flowers. Fifty entries have been received in the sweetpea section alone.

Yesterday no less than 200 entries were received. Nearly every class in the prize list will have a representative number of entries, indicating the popularity of the Summer show. The somewhat late Spring has been very beneficial for small fruits, a large number of which will be seen at the show. In addition to the prize list already announced the association is in receipt of three flower vases, donated by W. H. Wilkerson.

GARDEN COMPETITION RESULTS ANNOUNCED

Francis Turner and F. B. Robinson Winners in Garden Contest

Results of the home garden competition, promoted by the Victoria and District Gardeners' Association, were issued by the judges yesterday and are as follows:

Class A, for gardens 7,200 square feet and over—Francis Turner, 565 Toronto Street, 88 points; W. M. Walter, 3479 Bethune Street, 87 points; Miss L. J. Lowndes, 1605 Wilmot Place and W. N. Blackaller, 2565 Margate Avenue, 84 points.

Class B, for gardens under 7,200 square feet—F. B. Robinson, 1708 Denman Street, 85 points; Mrs. James Robinson, 1716 Haultain Street, 83 points; R. Battison, 3187 Fifth Street, 81 points; Mrs. A. V. Bryant, 3172 Shelbourne Street, 78 points.

The judging of the various gardens was undertaken by the Department of Agriculture, the duty being carried out by E. W. White, district horticulturist, and George Robinson, Elk Lake.

YPRES MEMORIAL CHURCH IS BUILT

Ottawa, July 20 (Canadian Press)—The foundation stone of the Ypres Memorial Church in France is to be laid next Sunday, according to information received by Premier King from Hon. P. C. Larkin, Canadian High Commissioner in London. The Archbishop of Canterbury has issued a special prayer for use by the Church of England and the committee in charge of the laying of the cornerstone has requested its use at all church services in Great Britain on Sunday.

The committee made the suggestion that the prayer could be appropriately used in Canadian churches at the same time, and Premier King, in making public the communication, approved of the suggestion.

The prayer is as follows: "Almighty and Most Merciful Father, God of the Spirits of All Flesh, Who by Thy Blessed Son hast taught us to know the wishes of Thy love, we remember before Thee to Whom the unknown are yet well known, the great company of our brothers who laid down their lives for their country but whose earthly resting place no man knoweth. In thankfulness and hope we commend their souls to Thy gracious keeping and we beseech Thee to grant that as we raise this memorial ship through Him who was dead and is alive, our Lord and Saviour, Jesus Christ. Amen"

W. A. BROWN

Chief of the Poultry Division in the Livestock Branch, Canadian Department of Agriculture, W. A. Brown is vice-chairman of the Executive of the World's Poultry Congress, and chairman of the Canadian exhibits committee. The standard of eggs and dressed poultry and the record of performance for poultry policies of Canada are due to Mr. Brown's efforts, and are now under his direction.

Born at Meaford, Ontario, on April 30, 1885, Mr. Brown graduated from the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph, Ontario, in 1908, with the degree of B.S.A., and two years later from the University of Maine with the degree of Master of Science. He was Professor of Poultry Husbandry at the University of Maine from 1908 until 1911. Accepting a call from his own country, he became a poultry specialist in the livestock branch of the Department of Agriculture from 1911 until 1917, when he was appointed to his present position.

TEST ON QUESTION OF INDEPENDENCE FOR PHILIPPINES

Manila, July 20—Seeking a test of the power of the United States Congress to grant independence to the Philippines, the American Chamber of Commerce here today adopted a resolution requesting Congress to propose a constitutional amendment which would grant the Philippines independence. It is the belief of the chamber, which opposes the independence movement, that Congress has not the power to grant it. The purpose of the resolution is to clear up the question.

How Your Sense of Smell Can be Used to Aid You Most

The sense of determining odors is far better developed in the lower animals than it is in man. Higher civilization makes man less and less dependent on his sense of smell, but it may be of great value to the human being who gives it a fair chance to be of service. There are some occupations, particularly those having to do with tasting, in which the sense of smell is highly cultivated. It is generally recognized that the sense of taste is largely dependent on the sense of smell for its full enjoyment.

In the nose are found little nerve cells which apparently receive the odor and relay it to the brain. In the nasal cavity of man there is only about one square inch of such cells, which is a small amount as contrasted with that of many of the lower animals. In the same way, the organs for registering smell in the brain of man are much smaller proportionately than those of the animal.

In a recent consideration of the value of the sense of smell to the physician, Dr. William J. Mayo points out that a surgeon with an especially trained sense of smell will recognize many abnormal conditions, while walking through a hospital ward. Before the advent of modern laboratory technique physicians were able to recognize typhoid fever by a particular odor, for the membrane in diphtheria had an odor which was peculiar to it. During the most recent epidemic of influenza many physicians pointed out that persons suffering with this disease had a perspiration with a definite odor.

Some poisons, particularly cyanide, have an odor which is distinctive. In the case of the cyanide, the odor is that of almonds. Man has but five fundamental senses. He seldom uses these to the maximum of their possible development. More and more he has come to depend on prolongation of these senses by the use of magnifying instruments, such as the microscope for enlarging objects of small size so that they may be more readily seen, or radio tubes which raise sounds of small dimensions into terrific blasts, such as may be heard by any ear.

ST. ANDREW'S SCENE OF PRETTY WEDDING

Miss Frances E. Jaffray
United to Major Wm. Firth
Yesterday

Tall baskets of Shasta daisies and Canterbury bells formed the pretty decoration at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church yesterday afternoon for the ceremony which united Miss Frances E. Jaffray, daughter of Mr. J. P. Jaffray, Harrison Street, to Major William G. H. Firth, son of the late John Hamilton Firth of Edinburgh. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. Leslie Clay, D.D.

The bride was given in marriage by Mr. Reginald Hayward, M.P., and made a charming picture in her bridal gown of white georgette with bodice in bolero fashion, trimmed with silver beads and rhinestones. Godets of the skirt, and an embroidered silk net veil fell in soft folds from her head, held in place with a circlet of orange blossoms. Her bouquet was of white heather, white sweet peas and Ophelia roses.

Miss Kitty Jaffray was her sister's only attendant, in a gown of hand-painted peach georgette and of tagal stags in red, and carried a bouquet of gladioli.

Mr. Harold F. Hewlett acted as best man and Mr. Tom Bamford was usher. During the signing of the register Mr. H. Wilson sang "Blessed, It Is Morn."

After the ceremony a small reception was held at the home of the bride's mother, where the bride and groom were assisted in receiving the guests by Mrs. Jaffray who wore a gown of black crepe satin with trimming and sleeves of embroidered white georgette and a black and white net hat with a cut steel ornament.

Major and Mrs. Firth left on the afternoon boat for Olympia Hot Springs, where the honeymoon will be spent. On their return they will make their home at 12 Howe Street.

FORMER HUSBAND OF MME. MATZENAUER ALLEGED FORGER

Floyd Glotzbach Indicted in Portland on Serious Charge

Portland, July 20.—With the arrest in San Francisco of Floyd Glotzbach, former chauffeur husband of Mme. Margaret Matzenauer, internationally prominent grand opera star, it was revealed here yesterday that he had been secretly indicted on Friday by the Multnomah County grand jury on the charge of forging the name of Mrs. R. D. Inman, Portland society woman and wife of the late owner of the Inman-Poulsen saw mill here to a $5,000 cheque.

The alleged forgery was committed while Glotzbach was driving Mrs. Inman's automobile, he having returned to his former trade after being divorced by Mme. Matzenauer.

According to District Attorney J. H. Mowbray, who presented the case to the grand jury, Mrs. Inman discovered the purported forgery last month when, in going her own car, she found on the dashboard a cancelled cheque, she found on drawn on the Hibernian Commercial Bank for $5,000 and made payable to Glotzbach, who is said to have been a member of the National Bank of San Francisco.

Glotzbach's romance with Mme. Matzenauer was much in the public eye six years ago and for some years thereafter.

The opera singer engaged him as her chauffeur in Del Monte, Cal., early in 1921, and took him with her for a European trip. They were married in Carlsbad, Czechoslovakia, on June 15 of that year and spent their honeymoon on the continent.

The course of true love, though, proved very brief. Early in 1922 Glotzbach was back in Del Monte, driving a taxi-cab and deciding that he preferred that position to being valet to an opera singer.

Later he tried his hand at several things, including the writing of his marital memoirs for the papers, prize-fighting and the movies, all of which led to publicity that was extremely distasteful to Mme. Matzenauer.

In 1923, after mutual recriminations, the couple separated.

Salvation Army To Hold Tag Day On August 13

Saturday, August 13, is the date set for the tag day in aid of the Salvation Army social, rescue and hospital work.

In previous efforts of this kind there always has been a good response to the Army's appeal. The local Men's Social Institution will benefit, as well as the work among women throughout the Province.

SOCIAL PERSONAL

FATHER'S VISION IS REALIZED, SAYE MILLE CARTIER

Daughter of Sir George Etienne Cartier Impressed With Beauties of Victoria

Distinguished Visited Greeted With Bouquet From Women's Canadian Club

"The same kindness has greeted me everywhere in Canada. Everyone has been so kind in their welcome to me all through my trip." With these words, Mlle. Hortense Cartier, daughter of Sir George Etienne Cartier, one of the Fathers of Confederation, accepted the bouquet of gladioli and roses with which the Women's Canadian Club welcomed her to Victoria on her arrival yesterday afternoon. As she accepted the flowers from a representative of the club, Mlle. Cartier drank deep of their fragrance and murmured her admiration of the flowers which had needed a greeting from the gardens of the Parliament Buildings and the Empress Hotel.

PROUD TO BE CANADIAN

"Here we are at the most western point of our trip, and soon we shall be turning our faces east again," she said, with a note of regret. Then, looking again at her bouquet, "The Canadian clubs have been with us all through Canada, giving us such cordial greeting that my heart has been touched, and I am very proud to be a Canadian."

A Times representative seeking Mlle. Cartier among the 150 members of the University of Montreal party which arrived yesterday afternoon was glad of the assistance of Mr. Charles Marchand, champion who visited this city last year, in finding the distinguished daughter of Confederation, for Mlle. Cartier, looking like a woman of fifty-five or sixty than of seventy-eight years.

It was difficult to realize that this brown-eyed old lady in the checked suit was within two years of being an octogenarian, but a brief conversation with her quickly revealed the secret. The interest in all that is going on around combined with keen powers of observation.

As she strolled in the gardens of the hotel, she exclaimed at the ivy growing on one of the low walls. "Oh, there is English ivy. How charming! It reminds me of the Old World. Next time I shall have my eye and again she expressed admiration of the link with the Old World suggested by its berries.

Admiring J. D. Chipman, daughter of the late Sir Leonard Tilley, a Father of Confederation, who has been in the city since her arrival, Mlle. Cartier's inexpressible joy in the triumph of the world of Canada, joined in admiration of the flowers of Victoria.

Both were amazed at the beautiful entrance to the Parliament Buildings overlooking the harbor.

BUILT BETTER THAN THEY KNEW

Mlle. Cartier confessed that in this, her first trip through the West, she realized that the Fathers of Confederation built better than they knew for the growth and beauty of the West had exceeded her most sanguine expectations.

The journey itself gave Mlle. Cartier a topic upon which she enlarged. "The railway was a revelation, when I remembered the laborious and slow travel methods in vogue in her girlhood in Quebec. The immense distances before her eyes, receiving them with a modern outlook tempered with the mid-Victorian spirit which is so refreshing."

Speaking English without a trace of accent, Mlle. Cartier is a much-traveled person and an accomplished linguist. Belonging to an era when languages ranked equally with deportment in the education of a young lady of good family, she speaks Italian, German, Spanish, as well as her French, and is widely read in the literature of all these languages.

Mlle. Cartier and Mme. Chipman will leave this evening with the rest of the University of Montreal party for the Mainland on the first stage of their journey East.

IS ACCOMPLISHED LINGUIST

It is eight years since Mlle. Cartier visited Canada, but then her visit was confined to the East. Together with Mme. Chipman, who was in Toronto, she was the guest of Sir George Cartier, but she hoped not her last visit to Victoria, she is enjoying with enthusiasm the many impressions which she has received from the West with a modern outlook tempered with the mid-Victorian spirit which is so refreshing.

QUEEN ALEXANDRA REVIEW—QUEEN ALEXANDRA REVIEW

Queen Alexandra Review—Queen Alexandra Review No. 11 W.B.A. met in the Sons of England Hall last night with Commander Mrs. Schmels in the chair. A report was given of the successful garden party held recently at the home of Mrs. Trousdale. Votes of thanks were passed to Mrs. Trousdale for her generous hospitality and to Mrs. Creighton and her equestrian committee for their work in making the garden party such a success. Arrangements were made for a picnic to be held at Mrs. Robson's camp at Cordova Bay on Wednesday, August 2.

A tallie will probably leave the city at 10 a.m. which will convey members and their families free of charge. Mrs. Creighton was appointed to complete the arrangement for the transport of the party.

A request for assistance with the ball on behalf of Queen Alexandra's Ballroom was deferred to the next meeting. A message of greeting was sent to the Supreme Council W.B.A. which is meeting now in Port Huron, Mich.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served and a social half hour spent.

Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Butchart Delightful Hosts to Visitors Yesterday

Fifty-two private cars kindly loaned by friends of the movement and several tallies conveyed the Guides from the Jubilee Girl Guide camp to the lovely gardens at "Benvenuto." Tod in-let, yesterday afternoon.

The guests were received by Mr. and Mrs. Butchart, and an opportunity given them to see the interior of their beautiful home. Swimming was enjoyed by many of the Guides, while in the garden the Guides had a lovely afternoon. The garden was a beautiful one, and the guests were charmed with the wealth of bloom, which is so characteristic of these gardens.

The aviary and the Italian garden were greatly admired and it is doubtful if this beautiful demesne has ever welcomed more appreciative guests. A sumptuous tea was served on the lawn before the party started on their homeward journey.

ORIGIN OF GUIDING

The morning address was given by Miss Behrens who spoke of the manner in which Guiding had developed gradually to meet each need as it appeared. "The movement," Miss Behrens said, "started itself for its beginning was made when at a Boy Scout Rally the Chief Scout was astonished to see a party of girls appear, who, it transpired had banded themselves together on their own initiative, formed a little company, hoping to share the privileges enjoyed by their brothers."

"It was then decided that it was time to start a training which would mean for the girls what Scouting meant for boys. The next development came when the insistent demand of small sisters for admission to the formation of companies led to the formation of companies of smaller girls. These were at first called 'Rodeos,' but the name seemed somehow insipid for these little girls, and they were called 'Ranger Companies.'"

"The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Butchart, who were present, were interested to learn of the birth of a daughter to them yesterday. Mrs. Butchart was formerly Miss Mabel Eberts of Victoria."

"After a while it was found that the girls as they came were reluctant to leave the Guide companies, and that the growing sense of individuality of the sixteen-year-old girl was spoiling the companies for the younger girls and so a further development was indicated."

"This was met by the establishment of Ranger Companies for girls of sixteen and over, to which not only Girl Guides but those who had not had the opportunity before of joining the movement, might belong."

"For these girls, on joining the Ranger Companies, a special responsibility is reserved in addition to the Guide promises, they undertake 'To render service by taking the Guide promises out into the world.'"

"The Ranger companies elect their own patrol leaders, and valuable practical lessons on citizenship are learned here. Community work is undertaken by the Ranger companies, which often 'adopt' invalids or crippled children and visit hospitals and orphanages, giving help in any way possible. In their meetings, debates are popular, and country dancing, group singing, and outdoor sports and nature work, all enter into the Ranger training."

At the camp fire in the evening, telegrams of greeting and good wishes were read from Dame Katherine Furse, Lady Baden-Powell and Sir Henry Pellett and Lady Agnes Peel.

Dame Alice Godman, representative of Canada on the Imperial Council of Girl Guides, of which Lady Agnes Peel is chief, explained the functions of that body, which keeps in touch with Guide work all over the Empire. The meetings are held quarterly and after

Of interest to many local friends of the bridegroom was the wedding which took place Saturday evening at the residence of Mr. A. L. Watson, 25 Fifth Avenue West, Vancouver, when his only daughter, Annie Firth, was united in marriage to Mr. William Stewart, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Stewart of Victoria. Rev. George C. F. Pringle, the "Bible Pilot," Minister, Van Ande, performed the ceremony. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white silk marocain. Her veil was held in place by orange blossoms, and she carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses. Her bridesmaid, Miss Mary Buxton, wore a gown of ecru lace over primrose crepe de Chine. On her hair she wore a bandeau of brilliants, and her bouquet was of mauve and pink sweet peas. The groom was supported by his brother, Mr. Alexander Stewart. The bride and groom are graduates of the University of British Columbia. During the signing of the register Miss L. Mundell sang "Because," and Miss Margaret Stewart, sister of the groom, "O Promise Me," Miss Edith Turley performed the nuptial music. After the ceremony supper was served. The table being centered with a three-tier wedding cake, and decorated with roses and sweet peas. Later Mrs. and Mr. Stewart left for Vancouver Island, where the honeymoon will be spent, and on their return will reside in North Vancouver.

STANDARDS AND EMBLEMS
Dame Alice Godman afterwards spoke on "Standards and Emblems," explaining the significance attached. She told the story of the standard which the Guides had presented to the Princess Mary as a wedding gift, which was designed, embroidered and made entirely by Guides and Guiders. A standard was afterwards made for the Chief of the Baden-Powell, the emblem of the camp fire entertainment, a "stunt" put on by a Toronto Ranger Company; choruses and rouds were enjoyed and after singing the Foxglove hymn, the campers dispersed for cocoa and biscuits before retiring to their tents.

WHAT MAY CAUSE "NIGHT TERRORS?"

Mrs. L.S.O. writes:
"I have a little girl three and one-half years old and for the past five months she has been waking four or five times during the night with terrible shrieks and screams. Sometimes she is sleeping and screams as though dreaming and it is sometime before we can waken her. When she is awake she cries and screams and stiffens her body."

"Otherwise she is perfectly well, eats heartily of vegetables, very little meat, very few sweets and has her big meal of noon. Her evening meal consists of a cereal, dessert of fruit or custard, and a glass of milk. She goes to bed at 8 o'clock."

IOWA SENDS CHAMP CATTLE JUDGES FOR INTERNATIONAL TEST

Elkador, Ia., July 20.—From one of Iowa's farms has come a girl who has outdistanced all her male competitors and who is now leading abroad a trio of youngsters in an attempt to bring back to the United States an international championship.

The girl is Gertrude Kaiser. At sixteen she is the champion junior dairy cattle judge of the United States.

Not only is she the first girl to become champion of the 50,000 dairy cattle judging club members in the United States, but in winning that honor she made the highest score yet recorded in the national competition.

Gertrude is also a shrewd young business woman. Starting in 1920 with no other capital than her youthful ambition and the knowledge gained in club work, she has acquired a bank account and joint ownership with her brother of eight purebred Guernsey cattle in their father's herd, in addition to a varied assortment of trophies.

When she wasn't raising prize-winning cattle, the industrious young Kaiser girl was distinguishing herself equally well by turning helpless little pigs into prize-winning hogs, and in her spare time she became a leader in girls' 4-H club work, winning championships as a member of the club demonstration team.

In 1921 Gertrude began her judging work while exhibiting her cattle club entries at county fairs. It was not until 1924, however, that she succeeded to gain membership in the Clayton County team, which competed in the cattle congress at Waterloo. She won third place.

In 1926 Gertrude, her cousin, Lloyd Kaiser, and Kenneth Walter, representing Clayton County, won the Waterloo competition over thirty-seven other county teams, then took the championship of the county at Detroit, and now are preparing in England for the world's honor.

With them are Roy Combs, Clayton County farm bureau agent, who has been coaching them, and Mrs. H. W. Kaiser, Gertrude's mother.

Pender Island

Pender Island, July 20.—Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Dewar of Victoria are spending their holidays at Welcome Bay, where they camped some years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Walker and family of Alberta are spending a month on the island, and are occupying Mr. Enke's house at Port Washington. Mrs. Walker is a sister of Mrs. J. S. Stiggins.

Mr. Thos. Young of Vancouver is spending a few days camping with her sisters, the Misses Boyd.

W. H. Barcham, of the Mutual Life, Victoria, is a guest with his wife and family, of Mr. and Mrs. Fry.

Mrs. Henderson and Miss Carter of Victoria are visiting Capt. and Mrs. E. G. Ames this week.

The engagement has just been announced of Annie Margaret Brackett, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Brackett, to Elmer E. Roy, of Chemainus. The marriage will take place quietly next week.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred McGregor and Mrs. McGregor Sr. have returned to Victoria, and Mrs. Wm. Young and little son are now camping with the McGregors at Browning Harbor.

A. S. Denny and Masters Tom and Roy Denny and Jack Norrington of Victoria called on friends while cruising about the Islands last week in their launch, the Wahnia.

MORE CANADIANS ON PAY ROLL THIS YEAR

Employment Figures Better Than in Any Year Since 1920

Canadian employment statistics at the beginning of last month showed a more favorable aspect than in any month for seven years, says a report received by the Victoria Chamber of Commerce. Approximately 43,896 more workers were employed on June 1 than on May 1. Statements were tabulated by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics from 6,150 firms employing 276,788 workers at the beginning of the month, as compared with 632,872 on May 1. This increase of 43,896 workers, or 8.3 per cent, brought the index number to 105.9 as against 102.2 on October 1, 1926, the previous high level in the last seven years. In the month of May last the index stood at 100.6.

Building construction for the first six months of the year throughout Canada is less than for the first six months of last year, $191,333,000 as compared with $194,543,000, but there are more projects in more localities, which means that more contractors are busy, more men employed and orders for material more spread around. The amount of work proposed to be undertaken this year will bring the twelve-month total higher than that of 1926.

AT THE THEATRES

VAUDEVILLE AT COLISEUM THIS WEEK IS GOOD

The vaudeville bill at the Coliseum this week is entertaining. There is a change from the large number of dancing and singing acts this week, there being an instrumental act on the bill playing violin and guitar, and also Spanish guitar. On the screen is Elinor Glyn, that past master of feminine psychology whose writings for screen and printed page have been the talk of two hemispheres for a decade or more, no longer wishes to be labeled a writer of intense sex drama, but demands recognition as an author of versatility.

This fact developed during the filming of "Ritzzy" Madame Glyn's second venture into the realm of screen comedy since her return to Famous Players-Lasky.

Some years ago she startled the world with "Three Weeks" and leaped into international fame. Succeeding works along similar lines, such as "One Day" and "His Hour."

When she came back to Paramount

Where To Go To-night

Capitol—"The Tender Hour."
Columbia—"Glenister of the Mounted."
Dominion—"The Night of Love."
Variety—"The Man of the Forest."
Coliseum—Vaudeville.
Playhouse—"The Flying Fool."
Crystal Garden—Swimming and Dancing.

Madame Glyn started her campaign with that scintillating screen success "It" in which Clara Bow made a glorious debut as a full fledged star. The phenomenal success of "It" spurred her on to further comedy subjects, and with Betty Bronson as the star she created "Ritzzy," the fascinating story of a title hunting heiress.

JACK HOLT'S PET
MOUNTAIN LION
FALLS UNDER BAN

Jack Holt, who has the title role in the Zane Grey Paramount picture, "Man of the Forest," at the Variety Theatre, has a mountain lion for a pet. Ten days' work with the cat made him extremely attached to the animal and he was considering adding it to his private menagerie, until he heard that she was fond of horses. In fact, Jack then decided not to take a chance on any of his own expensive mounts.

Georgia Hale is Holt's leading woman, heading a cast that includes El Brendel, Tom Kennedy, Warner Oland and Guy Oliver.

WITH BILLIE DOVE
COLUMBIA OFFERING

Conflict between the old and the new is the basic theme of "Sensation Seekers," starring Billie Dove with Huntley Gordon, now showing at the Columbia Theatre. In this motion picture drama of personal life in fashionable circles is presented the spectacle of the hide-bound opinions of yesterday trying to defeat the liberty of to-day, reducing every person to the rigorous discipline of dogma.

Youth breaks beyond reason, but at last the fiery temper, which will not yield to force, is seen to yield to love. "Sensation Seekers" was directed by Lois Weber, famous woman director.

TOO MANY TWINS
MAKE THINGS HOT
FOR GAY DECEIVER

Warner Brothers' production of "The Gay Old Bird," starring Louise Fazenda, and directed by Herman Ray, makes, at the Playhouse all this week, based on this situation:

A rich uncle has never seen the nephew's wife and promises one hundred thousand dollars, if, on his long-deferred visit, he finds a united and happy family. Now it happens that just before uncle's wife arrived, the wife had gone off to her mother's in a tantrum, taking the twins with her.

An officious friend promises to find a substitute wife, but discovering that none of his girl friends are eager for the job, he is compelled to impress Sissy, the housemaid, into service. When uncle and aunt arrive the maid is introduced as the dutiful wife and mother of the twins. The mix-up increases when another and another brace of twins are produced to add to the air of reality.

In the midst of the commotion the real wife comes back. She is forced to act as maid. The Irish chauffeur, who is in love with Sissy, misunderstands her motives. Things are in a side-splitting tangle, when... But "The Gay Old Bird" is to be a Fazenda hit, never been so outlandishly funny.

ALL ENDS HAPPILY
IN DOMINION FILM
STARRING BANKY

George Fitzmaurice's production, "The Night of Love" for Samuel Goldwyn, which shows at the Dominion Theatre to-day, is the story of a gypsy prince of old Spain who turns outlaw when the duke of a feudal domain, claims the sovereign rights of a ruler and takes his gypsy bride on the wedding night. Montero becomes a terrifying bandit and outlaw, but generous to the poor.

Ronald Colman and Vilma Banky are featured in the production. The duke later takes a bride, Marie, niece of the king. At the feast in celebration of the wedding, Montero and his band capture the palace and take the duke and Marie to the haunted tower, jump from a high cliff but is rescued by Montero, who finds he loves the girl.

After branding the duke with a dagger and sending him home on a donkey, he takes Marie back to the palace. They stop to rest at a gypsy camp, where they exchange love vows. At the palace the duke is in the midst of an orgy, but sees Isabelle who attracts him more than ever. She wards him off.

Montero escapes a trap, but is later captured in his attempts to rescue Marie, who has been thrown into the dungeon, and he is placed in the courtyard to be burned at the stake. The peasants love him for his generous deeds, but are powerless to help him against the duke's soldiers. Marie escapes, standing in a cleft in the palace wall. The drapes fall about her shoulders and the fire from the stake illumines her face. She raises her arm and the populace in a fierce riot, drives back the soldiers and rescues Montero. The duke is killed and the lovers at last united.

CAPITOL FILM HAS
PRE-WAR RUSSIAN
SETTING FOR STORY

The stage attractions at the Capitol Theatre this week are entertaining, and include Winifred Taylor, soprano, in song selections, the Bailey Sisters in an instrumental novelty offering, and Quale and Kelley in a funny sketch entitled, "Whim, Wier and Wytallie." The Capitol Concert Orchestra will also be featured with another excellent musical programme.

Absolute accuracy in settings, costumes and detail of every sort is promised in "The Tender Hour," George Fitzmaurice's spectacular First National production, which plays on the screen.

A staff of research workers, headed by Harriett Morris, director of research for the studio, worked for more than a month to insure accuracy to the slightest detail. Because of the setting of the picture, most of which takes place in Russia before the World War, a great deal of work was necessitated. This was made even more difficult than usual by the fact that the Russian revolution so altered conditions.

Although Billie Dove and Ben Lyon, featured players in the production, wear their customary garb, Montagu Love, who plays the role of a Russian nobleman, is seen in a variety of ornate uniforms. The uniforms were designed and made by the studio costumers from specimens of the actual court dress worn in the time of the Czar.

"The Tender Hour" was produced by John McCormick, general manager of First National's west coast studios, and is based on an original story by Carey Wilson.

'ALF'S BUTTON' AT
VARIETY ON MONDAY

Leslie Henson, who plays the part of Alf in "Alf's Button," an Associated First National attraction which will begin an engagement of six days at the Variety Theatre next week, is one of England's foremost actors.

Among his stage successes, "The Byng Boys" was one of the greatest. In this production he played the part of one of the Byng Boys and his work made it one of the biggest hits on the English stage.

In his roles of a comedian, Leslie Henson is as great a figure to the English stage as many of the popular comedy stars of the American stage are to an American audience.

"Alf's Button" is the beginning of his success as a screen star, and is also his first appearance on the American screen.

The peer of all comedians, Harry Lauder, is a great friend of Henson, and it is not an uncommon sight to see them together.

Teacher: "Give me a sentence with the word 'avaunt' in it."
Little Alf: "Avaunt what avauht when avauht it."

ELINOR GLYN PRODUCTION AT COLISEUM

Betty Bronson, William Austin and James Hall in the Paramount Picture "Ritzzy" An Elinor Glyn Production.

MOVIE ACTORS
ARE ORGANIZING

Hollywood, Cal., July 20.—Members of the film branch of the Actors' Equity Association voted at a mass meeting here last night to hold in abeyance the "Equity Shop Policy" in the motion picture industry, a policy which would have barred from the screen any except Equity Association members.

TO THE COURTS—The conclusion of two more film colony romances soon will be written in the divorce courts, they say in Hollywood. Constance Talmadge (above), who has been separated from her husband, Captain Alastair Mackintosh, for several months, has announced she will apply for divorce from Rudy Cameron Brenden of Washington, D.C., on grounds of incompatibility, after eight years of married life.

YOUTH DROWNED

Kamsack, Sask., July 20.—The second death by drowning in the family of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Hicks of Kamsack within nine years occurred yesterday when their eldest son, Frank, eighteen, was drowned in the White River, close to the point where it joins the Assiniboine.

TOPSY AND EVA AND THEIR FIANCES—The Duncan sisters of Topsy and Eva fame are soon to be wed, 'tis said, and here they are with their fiancés at the sisters' beach home in Santa Monica, Calif. Left to right are Nils Aster, fiancé of Vivian; Vivian, Rosetta and William Berli, who's engaged to Rosetta. The girls and boys are in the movies now.

Lois Moran's "Twin" Follows
Road To Fame And Fortune

Hollywood, Calif., July 20.—Doris Hill is following right in the footsteps of Lois Moran. They look somewhat alike and both came to the movies from the stage.

About the only difference between these two girls, who never knew each other until they met on a Hollywood movie lot, is in their hair. Lois is a cross between a blonde and a brunette, while Doris flaunts flaming locks. Photographically they might be twins. So much has been heard of Lois Moran that she often is considered almost an old-timer in movieland. She made her debut in this world in March, 1909, which is plenty of proof that she can't be so very old. Doris was born in the same month, but didn't get started in the movie racket as early as her "twin."

It is strange how the careers of these children—which is all they really are—have shaped themselves along the same lines although Lois was born in Pennsylvania and Doris in New Mexico.

Miss Moran made her bow on the stage in Paris with the Paris Grand Opera Company at the age of thirteen. The following year she branched out into films, making two pictures for a French company. That was before American producers were going completely crazy about foreign actresses.

Returning to New York after her second picture, Lois went on the road with the stage production, "The Wisdom Tooth." Then she came to Hollywood to start her American film career. Her first picture was "Stella Dallas," in which she was supposed to have the principal feminine role—but as all movie fans know, "Stella Dallas" was Belle Bennett, not one else. Since then Lois has signed with Paramount for a series of pictures, her latest being "Soundings."

Doris Hill has been a dancer since childhood—which might mean that she started anywhere from two to ten years ago. Whenever she could spare the time from her schooling, she has taken dancing engagements in theatres in various parts of the country.

It was while dancing in Los Angeles a year ago that she attracted the attention of film producers.

Doris's first picture was with Syd Chaplin. Then she made two other films. It was largely because of her resemblance to Lois Moran that Doris was "discovered" by a Paramount director and given a long-term contract.

And, following in her "twin's" footsteps, she has made good. Her last role was with Clara Bow in "Rough House Rosie," in which she was given very few opportunities to show her ability. But the "breaks" are bound to come her way sooner or later.

Japanese Gunman
In Tacoma Killed

Tacoma, July 20.—T. Oki, reputed Japanese gunman and witness in two recent Japanese murders, was found slain in his bed here last night. M. K. Higgins, T. Oki's partner in crime, was arrested shortly after the finding of the body of Oki, the first as a witness and the latter two as suspects.

POULTRY CONGRESS
GREATEST OF KINDDelegates From Other Countries Are Honored at Luncheon in Ottawa

Ottawa, July 20.—"Canada is under a great responsibility; we are looking to her to open a new era in the poultry industry and to make it greater than ever before," said Edward Brown, president of the World Poultry Congress, speaking at a luncheon tendered here yesterday to visiting delegates.

The congress this year, Mr. Brown said, was going to be by far a bigger meeting ever held in poultry or agricultural circles. Representatives from forty nations throughout the world would be here and he urged them to come with open minds, ready to learn and ready to teach their fellow delegates all they could.

"It is for you to awaken to what may be in your country," he said, "and this congress is going to reveal what is in Canada."

It was his belief, he declared, that the congress would do more toward putting Canada further on the map than anything else could.

Hon. W. R. Motherwell, Minister of Agriculture, Canada, in a brief speech, told the audience how the congress had been brought to Canada largely through the efforts of F. C. Elford, Dominion poultry expert, who said, "It has been a hard job," he said, "but the work already done has been the outcome of splendid team play."

Small Scratch May
Open Way For Deadly
Tetanus Germ

By DR. MORRIS FISHER

It used to be thought that tetanus or lockjaw was caused by scratching the skin with a rusty nail.

Nowadays it is known that this is one in a small group of infections which comes to man and many animals, and that it is conveyed to one or the other through the passage of a germ that causes this disease. Some cases occur in which a wound is not visible, so that possibly the organism enters through a small wound in the membranes of the nose or of the lungs.

The germ of tetanus lives best in the absence of oxygen, and is commonly found in association with highly fertilized soil or street dirt. When it enters the body, it sets up inflammations of the nerve tissue, and having a special predilection for some nerves, it is likely to bring about the condition known as lockjaw.

The patient is not in danger of contracting tetanus except through direct contact with diseased individuals. When a wound may be contaminated by particles of clothing, or by street dust, or by manure, the wound must be thoroughly cleaned by removal of all material that may contain the spores of tetanus of tissue already dead or likely to die. This should be removed by the surgeon's knife.

A dose of tetanus antitoxin may be given by a physician without harm to the patient and with a reasonable certainty that it will prevent the development of the disease. Instances in which a dose of antitoxin, repeated if necessary, has failed to prevent the development of tetanus are extremely rare. Ordinary experience shows that most wounds will heal without the development of this disease, but the physician is not warranted in making a diagnosis of tetanus, since prevention is always better than attempts at cure, particularly in a disorder as serious as tetanus.

Flounder-fisherman
Fable Has Analogies

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

Who are the poor? In fact they are those people who have insufficient food, clothing and shelter. In imagination they are the people who are discontented with their lot.

It takes character to live nowadays. There are two ways of living and both are hard. The one way is to join the ranks of the pushover crowd of money-makers, the other is to make a place for oneself where one can live wholesomely and unostentatiously and don a protecting mantle of philosophy.

Contentment that observes his neighbor's prosperity without a jealous pang. Effortless living, stagnation, spineless resignation, I do not mean. But there is a normal way to progress that is not the get-rich-quick frenzy that we imagine we must dive into to be happy.

The family upstairs sees the family downstairs with a new piano. What is the first thing that Mrs. Upstairs says to Mr. Upstairs, "We're so poor we can't have anything!"

The family downstairs sees the family next door build a new sunporch. Mrs. Downstairs says to Mr. Downstairs, "That's what it is to have money. I can't breathe the stink of this flat."

The lady with the new sunporch pores over the plans for her, sister's new mansion in a far city. "If we were not so poor we wouldn't be patching up this ship's galley for another run. We'd have a decent new house," she sniffs.

Her sister in the far city is saying to her husband, "When we get this house finished I suppose I'll be buried in it. We'll have no money for trips like we used to take. That's what it is to be poor."

Once there was a poor fisherman. He caught a flounder. The flounder, being a magician and not a flounder at all, made him in turn burgomaster, mayor, governor, and then king. Not satisfied, the fisherman wanted to be God. The flounder turned him back into a poor fisherman again. He couldn't be contented anywhere, so why waste a lot of good magic on him?

Do you know—poverty, like happiness, is mostly a state of mind?

REBELS SCATTERED

Managua, July 20.—Following his defeat at Ocoel, General Sandino, leader of Nicaraguan rebels, has isolated himself in a remote and inaccessible part of the country. The defence by a few United States marines and men of the Nicaraguan Constabulary, aided by five United States bombing airplanes from Managua, has served to scatter the rebels.

MENUS FOR THE FAMILY

By SISTER MARY

Breakfast—Halves of cantaloupe, scrambled eggs with bacon, graham gems, milk, coffee.

Luncheon—Fish and celery salad, rye bread and butter sandwiches, strawberry surprise, sponge cake, milk, tea.

Dinner—Broiled lamb chops, new potatoes in parsley butter, creamed carrots, ginger ale salad, cheese wafers, floating island, milk, coffee.

The fish and celery salad is planned to use up any of the halibut that may have been left from the preceding dinner. The secret of a successful fish salad lies in using a decidedly tart dressing for marinating the fish. Care in mixing the salad to prevent crushing the fish flakes is also essential.

STRAWBERRY SURPRISE

One cup whipping cream, 1 cup marshmallows, 1/2 cup powdered sugar, 2 cups strawberries, 1/4 teaspoon vanilla.

Cut marshmallows in small pieces and mix with strawberries cut in quarters. Let stand on ice for one hour. Whip cream until firm, beat in sugar and vanilla and fold in strawberry mixture. Chill and serve in sherbet glasses. (Copyright, 1927, Nea Service, Inc.)

PUBLIC OPINION
SWINGS TO HUSKY
IN VICTORIA

The McFarlane Drug Co.,

Victoria, Becomes Mecca for the Sick and Suffering; Health Restored for Hundreds Who Had Virtually Given Up Hope

"You can fool all the people some of the time, some of the people all the time, but not all the people all the time." This saying is mentioned as we think of the many people in Victoria, who when they first heard of Husky, the great herb preparation, thought that this medicine would turn out to be another one of those "highly advertised things" or just another "physio medicine."

EDWARD CHRISTIAN

"Well, Husky has already proved to hundreds in Victoria that it is a real medicine, that it is a medicine that will do all that is said for it. Because it really does the work, hundreds are returning to the McFarlane Drug Co., Victoria, to secure their second bottle. They are being given the relief promised, and are doing the only proper thing, namely, continue on with the Husky treatment. Local people have learned the truth. In the following story Mr. Edward Christian, 223 Carlton Street, Winnipeg, Manitoba, tells of his fine experience with Husky. "My health had been in a general run-down condition. I was almost overcome with a weak, tired, drowsy feeling and had little strength or vitality. I did not care to eat hardly anything and nothing tasted good. My liver was inactive, and I would have attacks of dizzy spells. My kidneys were affected, and it was necessary for me to arise frequently during the night. Gas and a severely bloated feeling caused me much misery. It seemed that indigestion was of daily occurrence."

"Thanks to Husky, my health has improved greatly. My liver and kidneys are now in a normal condition, and as a result I no longer suffer from dizzy spells, nor is it necessary for me to arise during the night. My appetite is now splendid and my food digests better than in years. Indigestion, gas and bloated feelings are things of the past."

"That weak, tired, drowsy feeling has been replaced by new feeling of health and strength. That is why I am still taking Husky, and will continue to do so, for I can notice more improvement each day. I recommend Husky with pleasure and confidence to other sufferers."

WILHELM DEFEATED IN WESTERN GOLF

P.N.W. Champ Eliminated by Standifer of Portland; Keefer Carter Loses

Seattle, July 20.—Two upsets took place in the first round matches of the Western amateur golf tournament here today when Keefer Carter, Oklahoma City, 1923 champion, was defeated by Fay Coleman, Los Angeles, 2 and 1, while Budie Wilhelm, P.N.W. champion, was beaten by the same margin by his townsman, Guy Standifer.

What looked for a while to be a terrific upset of the dope was Chick Evans turning 3 down to Lawson Little, Portland.

The Chicagoan's weakness on the green and on bad approaches, cost him this margin. However, after the turn Evans took the first four holes in a row, his youthful opponent going from bad to worse.

With a score of 4 and 2, Frank Dolp today safely defended his crown in the first match against Tom Green of Seattle. The first four holes in a row, he turned the first nine all even.

Both men played rugged golf on the way out, Dolp taking a 39 for his 35 nine. From the twelfth on Dolp settled into golf that looked like a champion's and won 4 and 2.

Seattle, July 20.—Only three of the seven eastern and middle western golf players survived the first round of the Western amateur golf tournament here today, while the Pacific Coast men entered the afternoon matches. The second eight-hole round would see the sixteen cut to eight in the elimination. The survivors, as they were paired for the afternoon were:

Frank Dolp, Portland, vs. Don Moe, Portland.
 Fay Coleman, Los Angeles, vs. Guy Standifer, Portland.
 Bon Stein, Seattle, vs. Dixie Fleeger, Seattle.

Harold Neimeyer, Seattle, vs. Chick Evans, Chicago.
 Chuck Hunter, Tacoma, vs. Eddie Held, St. Louis.
 Roy Moe, Portland, vs. V. Dolp, Portland.
 Dr. Willing, Portland, vs. Forest Watson, Spokane.

Emerson, Carey, Hutchinson, Kias, vs. Chandler Egan, Medford, Ore.
 Portland lost only two of the eight qualifiers. Russ Smith and Budie Wilhelm, while Seattle lost Fay Coleman, Paul Pigott, Roy Campbell, Alex Duncan and Dr. John M. Johnston.

The four Easterners and Middle Westerners to be eliminated were: Keefer Carter, Oklahoma City; John Jones and Charles Grace, Princeton, N.J.; N. J. Stevenson, Chicago.

Black Injured and Vancouver Crew is Weakened For Race

Vancouver, July 20.—After keeping steadily in training the year around and finishing up with months of unrelenting grind to prepare for the North Pacific championship regatta, Archie Black suffered an elbow injury a week ago, and has been forced to vacate No. 2 position in the senior shell.

He will be replaced by George Shippe for the senior fours event at the N.P.A.C. at Harrison Lake Saturday afternoon.

NEWS IN BRIEF

M. E. Pratt was fined $10 in the City Police Court this morning for driving past a standing street car.

A get-together meeting of the Canadian Legion for the Langford and surrounding districts will be held at the home of G. Cooney, Langford, on Monday evening, July 25, at 8 o'clock.

A classification talk on outdoor advertising will be given by Jack McMillan at the weekly luncheon of the Rotary Club at the Empress Hotel tomorrow at noon.

Stevenson's Chocolate Shop will broadcast through CFCB this evening, commencing at 8 o'clock, the fifth and last episode in the adventures of James Denny, a play entitled "Molly, the Mystery Girl."

Mayor J. C. Penland returned from Vancouver to-day where he addressed the annual convention of the International Association of Park Commissioners of the Pacific Coast. Other delegates from Victoria included Aldermen John Harvey, chairman of the parks board; T. R. Purdy, parks commissioner, and John Baxter, secretary-treasurer of the international association.

A meeting of the City School Board will be held on Wednesday of this week, it is anticipated, though the exact date has been left open for settlement later. Officials of the board are engaged in the preparation of a mass of official information required for the Provincial Government returns, on the results of school operations for the fiscal year.

The Permanent Force Units of M.D. No. 11 at Work Point Barracks were yesterday inspected by Major-General H. C. Thacker who is on his official inspection tour as chief of the general staff. For the inspection the troops lined up under their commanders' officers on the parade ground. Following the inspection Major-General Thacker had lunch at the officers' mess, Work Point.

In response to many requests, and to fill a want declared to be felt particularly by visitors to the city, an illuminated name plate has been added to the front elevation of the City Hall, Douglas Street. The words "City Hall" have been painted in two-foot letters over the lintel at the main entrance, and these will be illuminated at night by flood lights when the building is open for council sessions or other purposes.

The Chicagoan's weakness on the green and on bad approaches, cost him this margin. However, after the turn Evans took the first four holes in a row, his youthful opponent going from bad to worse.

BASIC INDUSTRY WOULD ESTABLISH CITY IN FUTURE

One Grain Elevator Here Would be Followed by Others

C. P. W. Schwengers Tells of C.N.R. Chief's Promise of Support

"The attitude of the people in Victoria to-day is this: We have been for the past two generations educating our young men and women, giving them the best learning and training to make them capable and good citizens, and then sending them to the States to earn their living under another flag. This was the statement of C. P. W. Schwengers at the meeting of the Victoria Real Estate Board at three o'clock this morning, where he discussed the merits of the grain elevator by-law.

"What we need," he added, "is more basic industries. If we had had these young people staying with us, those who have left Victoria to seek a living elsewhere, our population would have been 200,000 now."

The suggestion to make Victoria a grain port had been first put forward by the Canadian National Railway, he said. Since then Sir Henry Thornton had said he would build a grain elevator here. Unfortunately, Mr. Schwengers said, the Government, the Legislature at Ottawa. But the opportunity to secure it had come in another way, he continued.

LOGICAL PORT
 Mr. Schwengers pointed out reasons why Victoria had an advantage in the grain business which put it in an excellent position compared with other Pacific ports. Sir Henry Thornton had already promised, Mr. Schwengers said, to supply Victoria with grain. Victoria was a free port and the C.N.R. could not ship as cheaply out of Vancouver as they could here.

The great feature of the grain business was in the business profit it brought to a city, said Mr. Schwengers. The advantages obtained in greater population were made relatively unimportant when compared with those of trade.

THORNTON'S PROMISE
 Mr. Schwengers told of his visit to the East when the Dominion Bank was approached to secure financial support, and it was his promise that the bank consented to stand behind the elevator project.

Sir Henry Thornton had said, Mr. Schwengers declared, that if the elevator was not built the elevator by-law it would be a tragedy. The situation required immediate action, Mr. Schwengers said.

"We have an opportunity to make this a grain terminal," said Mr. Schwengers. "If we fail to seize it, we shall possibly never have another chance in this generation."

OTHERS WILL FOLLOW
 Within two years Victoria would be looking for additional wharves space to accommodate its grain trade, according to an eastern expert. If Victoria once passed her elevator by-law and started the grain business, Mr. Schwengers said, other grain elevators would follow.

As far as risk was concerned, the thing had been fully safeguarded, said Mr. Schwengers. That money could be used for anything connected with the business. It could be used for operation of the management desired.

FARMERS' BENEFIT
 Answering a question put by R. B. Ker, Mr. Schwengers said that the farmers who were behind the elevator would ship through ports where the profit was returned to them.

The scheme was a new one. The farmer would not have to pay storage and the elevator would be profitable and that the men behind it were beyond reproach.

Alderman Luthbert Holmes spoke briefly relative to the elevator problem. He said he had been given expert opinion from disinterested persons showing that the port of Victoria was a logical one for profitable dealing in the grain business, Alderman Holmes said he believed this authority.

He went on to say that there was ample assurance given to Victoria that the grain elevator would be profitable and that the men behind it were beyond reproach.

Alderman Holmes went on enlarging upon the grain situation, showing the profits which the city might obtain from the commerce derived from an elevator's construction here.

First news is expected over the air about 6:30 p.m.

Seattle, July 20.—Alexander Peabody, vice-president of the Puget Sound Navigation Company, is negotiating in Chicago for the purchase of a modern passenger steamship to be placed on the Seattle-Victoria run. Officials of the firm said yesterday that they hope to be able to give express service comparable to high-class short-route vessels on the Eastern seaboard. As a corollary to the use of the new steamer, the company plans to increase the service to Beltsville by the addition of the Sol Duc, now handling the Victoria run during the rush season.

BOY OF FIFTEEN RESCUED GIRL FROM RIVER

Oregon City, Ore., July 20.—Terry Decker, fifteen, of Gladstone, Oregon, dived eighty feet from a railroad trestle into the Clackamas River here yesterday and rescued Audrey Chippman, ten, as the girl floundered in the swift current of the stream. A large crowd witnessed the rescue and cheered the boy as he braved the river and brought the girl to shore.

NEW ROAD BRINGS MANY MOTORISTS

Hundreds Flock to See the Scenery Along Kicking Horse Trail

Opening of the new Golden-Yoho Road, better known as the Kicking Horse Trail, has drawn hundreds of motorists to the British Columbia Rockies, according to Hon. J. A. Buchanan, Speaker of the Legislature and member for Columbia, who is in the city at present.

"As many as 200 cars a day travel the new highway," Mr. Buchanan said. "The road opens up what is conceded to be the finest mountain scenery on any road in Canada. It plunges through the very heart of the Rockies by high grades, and with the Banff-Windermere Road and the Columbia River Highway, creates a scenic circle of unequalled beauty."

In future years thousands of cars will travel the new route, which offers every convenience and comfort to the motorist.

MACLEAN GOES TO MAINLAND, TOLMIE TO INTERIOR SEAT

Hon. J. D. MacLean, acting Premier, will go to the Mainland to-night to open a new theatre in Mission to-morrow. He expects to return at the week-end.

After a few days in Vancouver, Hon. S. P. Tolmie, Conservative Party leader, will leave shortly for a two weeks' tour of the Kootenay country to deliver a series of speeches and confer with Party supporters in several constituencies.

While in Vancouver Dr. Tolmie is in conference with Party leaders there. Among those whom he is expected to meet are H. S. Stewart, M.P., General A. D. McRae, M.P., who has been chosen as chairman of the National Conservative convention to be held in Winnipeg in the autumn and who is credited with ambitions for the Federal leadership of the Conservative Party.

 It appears from information coming from reliable circles that Japan is not insisting on submarine parity, although she is struggling to have a ratio in early draft higher than the 8-5 ratio established for battleships at Washington.

A British spokesman stated to-day he was convinced an agreement would be reached at Geneva. The three powers would exercise a spirit of mutual concession. He indicated the conference were not disturbed by the fact that the Japanese had evoked a meeting of his Cabinet with the British Geneva plenipotentiaries. It was pointed out that the Premier would shortly leave for Canada and that he would necessarily be considered out of touch with the negotiations during the journey.

At 4 o'clock last night, told the newsmen he was going back in obedience to a summons from the British Government. He explained that in view of Premier Baldwin's departure with the Prince of Wales for Canada in a few days the Cabinet wanted to go over the whole situation.

SPRIT IS INDIVIDUAL
 Geneva, July 20.—That some weighty decision is about to be taken by the British Cabinet in connection with the Three-Power Naval Conference is the general opinion prevailing to-day in conference circles in Geneva.

The negotiations at Geneva have been conducted for the last few days in what was said to be the pleasantest possible spirit, all three delegations having been encouraged, but without an agreement being found on a question which both Great Britain and the United States consider vital. The problem is whether the United States will commit herself to mount no guns larger than six inches on her cruisers.

ATTITUDE OF U. S.
 The impression in Geneva is that the United States delegation will oppose any suggestion the United States limit itself to any type of cruiser which the American delegation believes is unsuited to her naval needs, and will also resist any effort to confine armaments to six-inch guns which, as a result of the Washington Conference, may be mounted on swift merchant liners of which it is pointed out, Great Britain possesses so many.

The British delegation on the other hand, maintains that if Great Britain must keep within the suggested total tonnage of 500,000 tons for cruisers and destroyers combined, the United States must reduce the size of second-ary cruisers and restrict the calibre of their guns to six inches, asserting that if the United States builds these big cruisers, Great Britain must do like wise.

IMPORTANT MEETING
 This is the crux of the conference's difficulties and it is believed the British Cabinet, after studying the situation, will reach a decision on the treatment of this cruiser deadlock.

This is why Geneva conference circles consider to-day's Cabinet session in London, at which the British delegation must be represented, of overwhelming importance.

"I was in a big rush to get to the station, your honor, so I couldn't have been going very fast."
 "Couldn't have been? Why not?"
 "Well, you know the rule. The more haste the less speed."

URGE RESEARCH IN VALUABLE COAL PRODUCTS

Associated Boards of Trade Favor General Change of Name

Provincial Government Commended For Stand on Oriental Problem

The Associated Boards of Trade now in convention at the Cobble Hill Community Hall discussed to-day a provincial subsidy for research into coal and shale for the exploitation of its many qualities besides that as a fuel. President Cunliffe advocated provincial assistance in the commercial production of coal for by-product purposes.

C. P. Hill obtained inclusion of shale in the regulation which originally only applied to coal. "I know of no activity so important to British Columbia as working to try and change coal into oil and other by-products," he said. Success in this would double the mining industry.

J. E. Sladen of Saanich and A. Leighton of Nanaimo urged communications with British coal mine operators as to the experiments.

A resolution asking revision of provincial taxation of bank branches submitted by Alberni was overwhelmingly defeated. The tax of $500 on each bank branch was declared by some to deter establishment of banking facilities in smaller communities.

ORIENTAL PROBLEM
 The convention unanimously congratulated the Provincial Government upon its inquiry into Oriental activities in the Province, and will urge the Canadian Chamber of Commerce to assist the British Columbia Government in obtaining Federal legislation to solve economic problems created by Oriental competition.

The convention unanimously favored changing the title of all Boards of Trade to Chambers of Commerce, in the interest of conformity.

The convention refused to support a resolution from Qualicum Beach which sought to prevent livestock from being at large on the public highways without attendants.

The convention favored changing the Game Act to provide that persons found with fishing tackle set up and with other eggs in their possession shall be liable to prosecution. The delegates were assured that the present wording of the Game Act makes conviction practically impossible.

FIR MARKET BRISK; HEAVY ORDERS ARE BOOKED BY MILLS

Vancouver, July 20.—Large orders for delivery in Japan during August and September have been booked by British Columbia lumber exporters who also report good business booked for Australia, delivery until the end of 1927. Atlantic seaboard trade is now showing signs of improvement. Mills report they are booked to capacity until the end of August.

With prairie yards well stocked, domestic trade is confined to local building which is brisk. Loggers report a surplus of low-grade fir logs, with cedar stock normal.

All prices are unchanged as follows: Log prices—Fir, $10, $10, $20; hemlock, $11; cedar, $7, $15, $23; spruce, $12, $20, $30; Export prices—Match base, $16; 30 60x40 squares, $20.50; fir, $24, $21; hemlock, $19.50 to $20.50. Domestic prices—Board schedule Atlantic, $18, $18, $18; hemlock, $18.50 to $17; common dimensions, straight grade, $4 to $4.50 off rail B.

Lumber exporters report a plentiful supply of bottoms. The following lumber chatters have been posted here during the last week:
 Japanese steamer from British Columbia to North Hatteras during August and September, at $14.25, for Canadian Atlantic Transport Company, Harman Franch, American steamer, 2,778 tons from one port on North Pacific to New York, early August, at $14.50 for A. C. Dutton Company, Antonio Tripovich Italian steamer, 3,343 tons, from North Pacific to Australia, during August, on private terms, for J. J. Moore, Belpareil, Norwegian motorship, 4,285 tons, from North Pacific to United Kingdom and continent, on private terms, for Canadian American Shipping Company, Leverbank, British motorship, 1,140 tons, from San Francisco, August Sound and British Columbia to South Africa during August, on private terms, for J. J. Moore.

COWICHAN GUIDES PAY VISIT TO CAMP

Cowichan, July 20.—On Saturday nine Guides and Brownies in charge of Mrs. E. C. Springett and Miss M. Norris (Heutenants), were taken to Victoria to visit the Dominion Jubilee camp of Girl Guides, who are in camp at the University School grounds at Mount Tolmie.

The British delegation on the other hand, maintains that if Great Britain must keep within the suggested total tonnage of 500,000 tons for cruisers and destroyers combined, the United States must reduce the size of second-ary cruisers and restrict the calibre of their guns to six inches, asserting that if the United States builds these big cruisers, Great Britain must do like wise.

FIGHTERS TALK ON EVE OF BOUT

Dempsey Says He Will Win With Two Punches

No Second Comeback if He Loses This Time, and No Alibis Offered, as He Is In Peak of Condition; Sharkey Uses a Lot of "I's" and of Course Says He Will Win; Fans Paying $125 for Ringside Seat Worth $27.50; Expert Opinion Is Divided on Outcome; Good Weather Forecast for Bout

Saratoga Lake, N. Y., July 20.—The calm confidence of the man physically and mentally tuned to perfection gripped Jack Dempsey to-day as he once again stepped into the ring for the great fight of the heavy-weight division. Behind the most powerful man modern ring history has known lay three months of training in the Ventura Mountains of California and three weeks of grim battling to rebuild the splendid two-fisted fighting machine that once ruled the flaccid world. Ahead loomed the most dramatic night of his career—the night when he must win or quit the game he loves.

"I am ready," Dempsey said to-day, "as ready as at any time in my life. If I lose there will be no alibi, no second comeback, and I quit forever the game I love. I never have made an excuse before and I won't start now. But, put it down in the book—I'll lick that Sharkey kid in just two punches."

And the Dempsey who ended training to-day to depart for the scene of the battle in New York, appeared fit to do just that.

New York, July 20.—His work well behind him, Jack Sharkey was more confident than ever to-day that he would beat Jack Dempsey in their fifteen-round bout to-morrow night at the Yankee Stadium, leading to a championship battle with Gene Tunney.

"I'll beat him. I'm bigger than I ever was. I'm stronger. I'm hitting harder. I always could hit when I wanted to, so I have no fear of Dempsey's hitting. I mean to hit him whenever I set solidly, like any other fighter. I could always punch hard. But the difficulty in that is that in setting yourself you are exposed to being hit just as hard as you hit and I see no sense in giving an opponent better than an even break in this respect. That's the reason I have specialized in boxing, rather than in fighting. I can accomplish the same end."

New York, July 20.—Typical "Richard weather" is forecast for to-morrow night's fight between Jack Dempsey and Jack Sharkey.

In all of Tunney's career as promoter of championship bouts only two have been postponed. The last bout at Philadelphia between Tunney and Dempsey was staged in the rain. Unless the forecast goes awry Dempsey and Sharkey will meet at the Yankee Stadium under a clear sky.

In the event of inclement weather, Richard will hold the bout over until Friday or, even Saturday, if necessary.

New York, July 20.—Expert opinion differed sharply to-day about the Sharkey-Dempsey fight.

Tom Sharkey, famous old timer in the heavy-weight ranks, and from whom Boston Jack Sharkey got his fighting name, was inclined to favor his namesake, chiefly because of his youth and splendid physical condition.

Tom O'Rourke, veteran manager; Gene Normile, Dempsey's former manager; Jack Delaney, old timer, New York lightweight; Jack Renault, Canadian heavy-weight; Abe Goldstein, former bantam-weight champion, and Ruby Goldstein, New York lightweight, expressed preference for Dempsey's chances.

On the Sharkey side were Paulino Uscudun, Spence, promoter of the Willard-Johnson bout; Sammy Goldman, Sharkey's former manager, and Humberto Fugazy, promoter.

MAVE FAITH IN DEMPSEY

Jimmy DeForest, former trainer of Dempsey, believed Dempsey has regained enough of his old-time form to beat Sharkey even if the fight goes the limit.

A poll by the Daily News of persons at random shows 1,153 believe Dempsey will win by a knockout; 200 think Sharkey will win in the final blow; 114 think Sharkey will win the decision, and forty-four favor Dempsey for a verdict.

New York, July 20.—Ringside seats for the Dempsey-Sharkey fight, with box office price of $27.50, were reported being offered on Broadway at $125 each.

Reports of wholesale buying by speculators have caused United States Attorney Charles H. Tuttle to temporarily shift his investigation into the sale of theatre tickets to to-morrow night's fight at the Yankee Stadium.

New York, July 20.—Tex Rickard announced to-day that the advance sale of tickets for to-morrow's big fight had reached the $500,000 mark. To-morrow night's show is expected to gross approximately one and a quarter million dollars, the largest gate for any non-championship fight in history.

New York, July 20.—Salient facts and figures concerning the Dempsey-Sharkey heavy-weight Thursday night at the Yankee Stadium (William Harrison Jack) Dempsey, aged thirty-two of Los Angeles and Jack Sharkey, Boston, aged twenty-five.

Distance—Fifteen rounds to a decision of two judges and a referee.

Time—Preliminary bouts start at 8:15 p.m.; main bout at 10 p.m. Eastern Daylight Time (6 p.m. Victoria time).

Probable attendance—80,000.

Probable receipts $1,250,000.

Preliminaries (all of six rounds): George Laroche, Jersey City, vs. James J. Braddock, New York; Sandy Seifert, Pittsburgh, vs. Wyoming Warner, Cheyenne, Wyo.; Tom Sayers, Detroit, vs. Jimmy Byrne, Louisville, Je; Monte, Boston, vs. Frankie Muckle, St. Paul; George Manley, Denver, vs. Ray Numan, Jersey City, in the bout to be held after the main event.

Chief seconds—for Dempsey, Leo P. Flynn; for Sharkey—Johnny Buckley.

ROYALS DECIDE TO FACE NANAIMO IN REPLAY TO-NIGHT

Vancouver, July 20.—Westminster Royals and Nanaimo City will clash in their soccer feud for the British Columbia championship at Con Jones' park to-night. Westminster have reconsidered their decision not to play the game and will be on hand for the contest. Referee Webster of this city will handle the whistle. He will have as line-men R. Armstrong and Kennedy. Dave Nelson, president of the B.C.F.A., has given the referee strict instructions to listen to no protests by players, but to display a firm hand throughout the game. The match is slated to start at 8 p.m., so that if there is cause for any overtime there will be time enough left to play it.

Ridley College To Meet Strong Local Team Here Friday

Incogs Will Oppose Youngsters Who Have Keen Western Cricket Team

Tourists Defeat Vancouver Easily and Will Have Another Game There To-day

Ridley College's famous cricket eleven will be here on Friday for a match with the Incogs, local champions. The match will be played at the Jubilee grounds and will start at 10:30 o'clock, continuing until late in the day.

Ridley College have played the leading teams throughout the West and have yet to meet defeat. They dropped on a Vancouver team yesterday and have another match there to-day. They will play Incogs here on Friday and then continue on to Cowichan for a match on Saturday.

The collegians have a young but very fine team. They have fine batsmen and good bowlers and provide plenty of good cricket for the gallery.

The Incogs will line up as follows: P. A. Sparks (captain), R. Wenman, Major Howden, J. Wenman, H. H. Allen, C. J. Brown, G. W. Wilson, J. Adams, Captain Tomlin and Jackson.

Vancouver, July 20.—Ridley College, Ontario cricketers, maintained their unbeaten record during their present tour by defeating a local eleven composed largely of younger players of the city, at Brockton Park, Tuesday, in an easy manner, 272 to 105.

The visitors were in good batting mood and although they lost the first wicket cheaply, the partnership of Fischer and Hardy added nearly 100 runs, of which the latter contributed 61 by a brilliant hitting. Bell, the visiting captain, who has scored heavily in all previous games, fell to a fine catch by Dawson without making a run, and Fischer followed shortly after.

Several wickets then fell cheaply until L. C. Bell and Robinson became associated, and by some free hitting the score rose quickly, when the latter fell to a brilliant catch by young Lester. Bell continued to play more carefully and was the last man out after compiling 80 by good cricket. The fielding of the Vancouver team was excellent.

The local team had a formidable task to face and when Dawson was bowled early and Parr was well caught by Mercer, a brilliant catch by young Lester. However, Lester and Brown got together when, by patient cricket, caused a double chance of bowling and carried the score to 50 before Lester was caught at point for a well-played 35.

Following the tea interval, Mercer, the star visiting bowler, went through the remainder of the Vancouver team and the side was all out for 107, Hombell being responsible for 31, not out. Mercer bowled in deadly form later in the game, securing seven wickets for 27 runs.

To-day the Ridley Collegians play the strong Bank of Commerce, which will include Broadfoot and Reed of the Auroras.

IT HAS NEVER BEEN DONE BEFORE BUT DEMPSEY THINKS HE CAN SET PRECEDENT

Jack Dempsey

Thorne, Jim Daly, Ed. Dunkhorst, Gus Rubin and Tom Sharkey in a row, but when the forty-year-old attempted to recapture the throne from the boiler-maker in Frisco, Ruby Robert met Big Jess to surrender to the charges of the Wild Bull.

And poor Jim Jeffries, eight years out of boxing, he lugged what was left of his hulk back in to the ring at Reno and was massacred by the Galveston Black who had mounted the heavy-weight throne.

Then there were Corbett and Fitzsimmons. They never met after their title bout at Carson City. Gentleman Jim failed—failed gloriously but nevertheless failed—in his attempt to win the championship from Jeffries by knocking him out of the ring.

Following his defeat by Jeffries at Coney Island, Fitz knocked out Jim Thorne, Jim Daly, Ed. Dunkhorst, Gus Rubin and Tom Sharkey in a row, but when the forty-year-old attempted to recapture the throne from the boiler-maker in Frisco, Ruby Robert met Big Jess to surrender to the charges of the Wild Bull.

So here comes Dempsey trying to set precedent. Experts as well as the public have come to look upon Jack as a mythical superhero. That, combined with the fact that Tunney has the lowest popular rating of any champion who has ever held the crown, and much suspicion that still surrounds the Philly fight, leads many to believe that the great Dempsey will shatter all ring precedents and walk the purple toga he so long and illustriously wore.

Should Dempsey beat Sharkey, he is likely to be even a greater betting favorite against Tunney this year than he was last.

Sidney Are Victors Over Esquimalt In Intermediate Game

Capture Lacrosse Match by 8-4 Score; Bicycle Races Held Between Periods

Outclassing their opponents with their accurate passing and good combination the Sidney intermediate lacrosse team took Esquimalt into camp last night at the Royal Athletic Club by 8-4.

In the first period the only goal scored came from the stick of L. Crossley, of Sidney, who sagged the tempo a few minutes after the face-off. In the second quarter Sidney scored three additional goals. Bowcott, Clanton and Reed being responsible. Derbyshire and Burnett scored for Esquimalt to make the board read 4-2.

Both teams scored a goal apiece in the third quarter, Wright finding the net for Esquimalt, and W. Crossley for Sidney. In the final quarter Sidney had the best of the play and Bowcott, L. Crossley and Clanton scored goals.

The teams were as follows: Sidney—J. Crossley, Hill, Bowcott, W. Crossley, B. Bowcott, L. Crossley, Clanton, C. Reed, G. Reed, Anderson, St. Louis, Nunn and Pool.

Esquimalt—Drysdale, Banks, De Costa, Fowkes, Burnett, Blair, Wright, Derbyshire, Hicks, Mercer, Sage and Reid.

Bicycle Races

Ernie and Bill Peden were the big winners in the first and only handicap of the Victoria Cycling Club, the events of which were staged during the intermission between the lacrosse periods.

In the two-mile handicap event Bill Peden was the winner, while his brother, Ernie, captured the laurels in the one-mile handicap.

The full results follow: One-mile handicap, class "A"—1, E. Peden; 2, S. Dowling; 3, B. Peden. Half-mile handicap, under sixteen—1, F. Neuenfeldt; 2, Victor Dowling; 3, W. Rose. Time, 2:00.

Half-mile scratch, class "B"—1, R. Klesinger; 2, A. Pellett; 3, F. Neuenfeldt. Time, 1:17.

Two-mile handicap, class "A"—1, Bill Peden; 2, S. Dowling; 3, Jack McPhee. Time, 4:54.

KILLED IN A FIGHT

Portsmouth, Ohio, July 20.—C. W. Chappelle, seventy, owner of a large strapping race horses at Raceland, Ky., was killed in a cock tent at the track there last night as he attempted to stop a fight between a negro and a white man.

McGraw Given Big Time in New York on Silver Jubilee

New York, July 20.—All New York, as well as the entire baseball world, joined yesterday in celebrating John J. McGraw's twenty-fifth anniversary as manager of the New York Giants.

Prior to the start of the game with the Chicago Cubs, a notable parade was held around the Polo grounds which probably was the most brilliant affair of its kind ever held. The celebrants were led by Mayor Walker and his staff, and a large contingent of the city's finest firemen, including George Cohan, Leon Errol, Jim Corbett and Sam Harris. The Giants and Cubs also paraded, and last of all was the man of honor, John J. McGraw.

The regular contest was preceded by a game made up of doctors and actresses and a concert by four hands. The burlesque ball game, which is being played in the Polo grounds, is a game of the future. All of the running was done to third base, and at one time there were four on the base.

Just before the regular game, the players, through Roger Bresnahan, presented their chief with a silver service.

Others in the parade were Baseball Commissioner Landis, John Heydler, National League president, Charles Stoneham, Emil Fuchs and other club owners, with many leading theatrical luminaries of the country, including George Cohan, Leon Errol, Jim Corbett and Sam Harris. The Giants and Cubs also paraded, and last of all was the man of honor, John J. McGraw.

Great Finish Puts Hunter In Leading Place At Seattle

Tacoma Golfer Who Held P.N.W. Title in 1925, Wins Medal Honors With 147

Seattle, July 20.—A gallant finish in the last nine holes yesterday enabled Chuck Hunter, 1925 P.N.W. amateur golf champion, to lead a field of stars in the qualifying round of the Western golf championship tournament, which is being played this week over the course of the Seattle Golf Club.

Hunter, starting the second eighteen holes three strokes behind Roy Porterland, slipped around on the first nine yesterday, but after going five strokes over par for a 40 on the outward journey, staged a courageous comeback on the inward trip, slipping three strokes from par for a 35, which gave him an eighteen-hole total of 75 and a two-round aggregate of 147.

This brilliant finish enabled Hunter to nip in ahead of Chick Evans of Chicago, eight times titleholder, by a single stroke, despite a magnificent rally by the latter, who scored a 71, the best round of the day, to finish in 148 after a had start on Monday with a 77.

Ray Moe of Portland, who had led the field with a course record of 68 at the end of the first eighteen holes, couldn't keep in the fairways yesterday and needed 80 strokes to come around, requiring a total of 149 for the double circuit of the course.

Moe's total placed him in a tie for third place with Keefe Carter of Oklahoma City, Western champion of 1925, who had a 74 yesterday to add to Monday's 75.

Three players were grouped at 150, these being Ben Stein of Seattle, 76-75; Dr. J. M. Johnston of Seattle, 75-75; and Chandler Egan of Medford, Ore., 76-74.

Frank Dolp of Portland, defending champion, who was not required to qualify, went to the buggy-side with the rest of the boys and negotiated the two rounds in 75-76-151, which placed him in a tie with Dr. O. F. Willing, Portland's Walker Cup winner, who added a 77 to Monday's 74.

Other qualifying scores ranged all the way to 158, with six scores of 159 lighting it out for thirty-sixth place.

The next sixteen rounds of the thirty-six holes in the last mentioned figure had a tough hour or so waiting to know if they were to get into the match play stages of the event.

When Johnny Wall of Spokane sank a thirty-foot putt for a 159, it meant a play-off among six for last qualifying place, and this supplied most of the day's drama.

Roy Campbell won the play-off. Twenty-five Pacific Coast and seven Eastern players qualified. Portland carried off the qualifying honor, when nine men from that city got inside the circle.

The draw for the first round to-day follows: Frank Dolp of Portland, defending champion, vs. Tom Green of Seattle. Chuck Hunter of Tacoma vs. Paul Fieger of Seattle.

C. A. Griswold of San Francisco vs. Done Moe of Portland. Eddie Held of St. Louis vs. Harold Thompson of Los Angeles.

Keefe Carter of Oklahoma City vs. Harry Coleman of Los Angeles. Roy Moe of Portland vs. Harold Townsend of Yakima, Wash.

Clay Standifer of Portland vs. Rudie Welbelm of Portland. Charles Grace of Princeton vs. Vincent Dolp of Portland.

Bon Ryan of Seattle vs. Louis Kleau of Spokane. Dr. O. F. Willing of Portland vs. Roy Campbell of Seattle.

Dixie Fieger of Seattle vs. Dr. John M. Johnston of Seattle. Forest Watson of Spokane vs. John Ames of Princeton.

Russ Smith of Portland vs. Harold Nieneyer of Seattle. Emerson Cart of Hutchinson, Kas. vs. Alex. Duncan of Seattle.

Chick Evans of Chicago vs. Lawson Little of Portland. Chandler Egan of Medford, Ore., vs. Ben Stevenson of Chicago.

Detroit's Rally In Ninth Most Exciting Puled This Season

Drove in Seven Runs and Nosed Out Philadelphia by a Single Run

Chicago Cubs Climb Back Into First Place; White Sox Almost Broke Through

Choosing John McGraw's silver anniversary festivities for their setting, the Chicago Cubs climbed back into the National League leadership only a day after they had been ousted down to second place. While the Pittsburgh Pirates were being rained out at Philadelphia, the hustling Brains subdued the Giants at the Polo Grounds 5-3.

Cincinnati defeated Boston in their last place duel, Bresnahan's hitting being a factor in the Reds' 8-2 decision. Rixey held Boston to six hits.

The Yanks won their eleventh consecutive victory over the St. Louis Browns 6-1. The Yanks got to Stewart, St. Louis southpaw, in the third inning and drove him out of the box. Ritzky, who failed to turn in his best effort, was then hit for any excitement in their home-run scramble, both getting one hit.

SPECTACULAR FINISH

Detroit Tigers put on one of the most thrilling ninth-inning rallies of the season, scoring seven runs and beating the Philadelphia Mackmen 10-9 in the last game of the series. Walney had the Detroit team well in hand until the final inning when he retired under a shower of base hits. Rommel succeeded in hitting Walney, who had pitched the third pitcher, for the inning; walked two batters and then permitted Basler to single home the tying and winning runs.

"Fipps" Marberry rescued Hollis Thurston at Chicago and the Washington Senators nosed out the White Sox 4-3. Schalk's team was about to crash through in the bottom half when Marberry went to the mound and forced Peckinpaugh to hit into a double play. Thereafter Chicago did not get a hit. Cleveland and the Boston Red Sox split even in a double-header, the Indians taking the first 4-3 and Boston the second 6-3. The games were marred by the Boston Red Sox during the hostilities.

SNARED

A Story of One Wonderful Week
By MALCOLM DUART
Copyright 1927

The young man winked at Nadine, who mustered up a wan smile in reply. Mrs. Smith brought him his coat and helped him to put it on. "That button's fastened right, this time," she said.

When breakfast was over, Stewart Bodey hitched up the horse and announced that he would start to plough the field behind the house. It was necessary to haul the plough from the enclosure where he had worked the day before.

Soon after he started he came into the house again. A telegram was in his hand.

"A young man just delivered this," he said. "It's for you, Irene. Evidently it was forwarded from your home—the messenger collected the charges from me."

"Mrs. Smith, startled, took the envelope. "How in the world did they know I was here?" she quavered. "I'm afraid to open it!"

CHAPTER XXXVII

Pierce reached over her shoulder and lifted the telegram from the woman's shaking hand.

"I'm not nervous," he said. "I'll read it for you."

He looked over the message. "It is from Benson & Holey—those detectives in Joliet," he reported.

"What do they want?"

"Regret to report that gentleman killed in this city five weeks ago has been identified as your husband," the young man read. "Delay in identification due to fact that he went under assumed name. Do you wish remains removed from public burial ground? We will be glad to assist you in any way. Deceased left pawn tickets calling for two diamonds. Kindly advise."

Pierce looked up from the message. Mrs. Smith had recovered from her agitation, and her lips were parted in thought. "I bet I know what diamonds they mean," she said. "I'd better send for them."

"You'll have to pay the pawnbroker," Pierce reminded her.

"I'd like to know why! They were my husband's diamonds."

"But he evidently borrowed money on them," said Stewart Bodey. "The pawnbroker will have to be repaid whatever amount he lent Mr. Smith."

"Everybody in the world tries to cheat a woman!" she exclaimed.

"Here I had to put up with that man for twenty years and I can't even get his diamonds without paying for them!" She picked up the dishpan and banged it to the table again. It was a new pan, bought by Bodey the night before, and her movement left a deep dent in it. "Can they make me pay that money?"

"No," said Bodey. "But if you don't pay it, you lose the diamonds. Are they very valuable?"

"I don't know," she said. "He used to wear one of them in his tie and the other in a ring. They were pretty large."

"I'll be happy to redeem them, if you'll let me," the man offered. "She did not answer, but stood moving the breakfast dishes to and fro in the pan. "How did that telegram get here?" she asked, turning to Pierce.

"It was sent to your own home, and forwarded," he told her. "See?" He displayed the typewritten addresses on the message.

"Then," said Bodey, "I think the telegram company tried to deliver the message there, the man at the house told where you went and they simply telegraphed it to the office nearest this place. It's a rush message. The local office hired a man to bring it. He collected a dollar for delivery."

"I wish the telegram company would attend to its own business," said Mrs. Smith. "Now they've found out where I am, probably they'll blab it around, and the policemen will find Elbert!"

Pierce smiled faintly. "I never heard of a telegram company doing much blabbing," he remarked.

"You never can tell. Look at this telegram! Why couldn't they let it wait until I got home?"

"Usually, Irene," said Bodey, "they make every effort to deliver messages that tell of a death. They thought it was important."

"They might have more sense. How much did you pay the man, Stewart Bodey?"

"Not much—a couple of dollars," said he.

"I shouldn't think I'm going to pay you back," she said. "I didn't ask for the old message!"

"I don't expect repayment," he hastened to assure her. "I'm glad to be of service."

"Service," she snorted. "Trying to make out that I'm under obligations to you, I suppose! Well, I'm not."

Nadine had been quite interested in the conversation, but she did not join in the conversation.

Later, when Bodey had brought his horse and plough through the yard and was preparing to begin operations in the rear field, she joined him at the fence. Mrs. Smith stood watching them from the kitchen door.

"Mr. Bodey," said the girl, "can you persuade Mrs. Smith to go home, or to go to Joliet for those diamonds?"

He twisted the reins about his wrist. "She makes you very uncomfortable, doesn't she?" he said.

"Look at my face!" The long scratches that the woman had administered still showed red. "And she's made bruises on my arms, and she looked me in the cellar, and took all the bedclothes away from me last night!" One stopped and gulped.

"Don't cry," he begged, hastily. "Irene is watching. He leaned his shoulder against the fence and pointed to the distance as if he were discussing the landscape. "I am shocked at the change that has taken place in her," he continued, still pointing.

"She was one of the merriest girls I ever knew—always talking and laughing."

"She takes a great deal still," commented Nadine, with disfavor.

"But not merrily," he said. "Not at all good-temperedly. It grieves me to see a beautiful woman so aggressive in her ways."

"Do you think she's beautiful?" Nadine could not forbear a glance at the woman who stood behind them in the kitchen door. Her thin grey hair was pulled forward over hollow cheeks. The cheeks themselves bore fresh round dabs of rouge. Her thin lips were straight, and severe.

"She is the most beautiful woman in the bloom of her girlhood! She is older now, of course, but time makes changes in us all. And she has led a sad, hard life. "I would have done my best to make her happy, but it seems she loved this other man."

"Mrs. Smith says you're wealthy," said Nadine.

"I might be called so," he said. "It is true, you never married on account of her?" The questions were singularly direct, but she asked them with wide-eyed innocence.

"To be sure," he said.

"I know it's awful for me to talk this way," she resumed, "but I'm in a terrible fix. My father and mother don't know where I am, and she has made this place a perfect— a perfect—"

"Hell!" he suggested.

"Yes," said she. "That's just what it is! What I wanted to ask was, why don't you marry her now, and take her away?"

"Cock a doodle do!" crowed Charlie the rooster boy one day after he had been playing ball with Jackie and Peetle. "Woo woo! The dogs and Jimmie Wibblewobble the duck. I think I'll go take a bath! It's so very hot!"

"A bath! That sounds good!" quacked Jimmie. "I'm going for a swim myself!"

"Well, come with you!" barked Jackie and Peetle.

So the four boys ran off together, but while Jackie, Peetle and Jimmie plunged into the water at the old swimming hole, Charlie found a place in the road, not far from the brook, and the rooster boy took his bath in the dust.

OUTLINE OF SCIENCE

CLXX—The Triumph of the Telegraph.

by MAX HAHN

AFTER CONGRESS GRANTED $30,000 FOR A WASHINGTON AND BALTIMORE TELEGRAPH LINE, MORSE HAD TO PROVE TO THE WORLD THAT THE TELEGRAPH REALLY WAS PRACTICAL. MORSE'S PATH WAS ROCKY. MUCH MONEY HAD BEEN SPENT BEFORE HE DISCOVERED THAT DEFECTIVE INSULATION WAS SPOILING HIS PLANS FOR AN UNDERGROUND CABLE.

ON MAY 24TH THE BALTIMORE WIRE WAS CHRESTENED WITH ANNIE ELLSWORTH'S FAMOUS MESSAGE. "WHAT HATH GOD WROUGHT." AND A FEW DAYS LATER THE TELEGRAPH ATTRACTED STILL GREATER ATTENTION WHEN WORD WAS RECEIVED IN WASHINGTON THAT THE DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION AT BALTIMORE HAD NOMINATED WRIGHT FOR VICE PRESIDENT.

THE WIRE FLASHED NEWS OF THE NOMINATION TO WASHINGTON. AND BEFORE THE DEMOCRATS HAD IMAGINED IT WAS POSSIBLE THE DELEGATES RECEIVED A TELEGRAM FROM WRIGHT DECLINING THE NOMINATION. THE MESSAGE WAS SENT AND THE REPLY RECEIVED WITHIN SUCH A FEW MINUTES THAT THE DEMOCRATS THOUGHT SOME ONE WAS FOOLING THEM.

BUT THE NEXT DAY AN INVESTIGATING COMMITTEE REPORTED THAT THE TELEGRAPH HAD TRANSMITTED WRIGHT'S REPLY ACCURATELY. THIS INCIDENT DID AS MUCH AS ANYTHING TO ADVERTISE THE TELEGRAPH. MORSE WAS CHAGRINED WHEN THE GOVERNMENT REFUSED TO PAY $100,000 FOR HIS INVENTION. IT WAS LUCKY FOR HIM, HOWEVER. HE MADE A FORTUNE BY RETAINING HIS TITLE TO HIS INVENTION.

Dear Sir,

For several years I have been suffering from sciatica. A month ago it was so bad I could not walk without suffering the most excruciating pain. I heard of the I-ON-A-CO Belt, came to your office and took your special offer of twelve treatments. After three or four treatments I was feeling much better and by the time the twelve treatments were finished the sciatica had completely left me. I am feeling better now than I have felt for years. I shall always be pleased to recommend the I-ON-A-CO Belt to anyone who suffers like I did.

Sincerely yours,
J. DOWELL.

TRADE BOARDS CONVENTION IS BANQUETED

Associated Boards of Trade Convention Delegates Entertained

Guests of the Malahat Board of Trade, seventy delegates to the convention of boards of trade of Vancouver Island in session at Cobble Hill, were last night entertained to a splendid banquet at the Wilton Place Hotel.

The toast of the Dominion of Canada was proposed by Dr. D. E. Kerr of Duncan, who recalled with pleasure, the action of the Government in making it possible as part of the jubilee celebrations, for all Canadians to hear, by the use of radio, the wonderful carillon of the Parliament Buildings at Ottawa.

C. H. Dickie, M.P., responded, telling of the wonderful progress of Canada and her unrivalled resources. "It has occurred to some of us that we have not made the most of our opportunities, but I am not going to deal with that of our forest resources. That might be construed as politics."

"I do not know that there is any remedy for this forest wastage. The high lead system of logging is one which would not be tolerated in Ontario, but it seems the only commercial method suited to this rugged country," he considered.

Mr. Dickie urged the convention to record opposition to export of raw lumber from the railway belt of Vancouver Island.

TRIBUTE TO PREMIER

Col. Oldham proposed a toast to the Province of British Columbia. R. H. Pooley, M.P., replied and expressed profound regret that Premier Oliver has become so seriously unwell as to require relief from his duties.

"It is for you gentlemen, as businessmen, to post up politicians as we should be getting," he charged. Mr. Pooley questioned whether the people of British Columbia are getting what they should from the pillared fisheries now being exploited. He declared seventy-five per cent of the capital employed in the province of British Columbia is in the hands of the Columbia money should be employed at home.

"Men with funds, instead of putting their money into a home, giving employment to masons and carpenters, buy an American car and then drive it out of the country," he remarked. Mr. Pooley regretted the failure of the Province to win its fuel oil tax of successful experiments with powdered coal and coke and hoped that these discoveries in fuel would have a profitable result for British Columbia.

UNITED ACTION

The toast of the Associated Boards of Trade was proposed by C. F. Hill, who urged united representations to the Government for betterment of the territory of the Province, and the small population, leads to a narrow viewpoint. "If you all pull together we are bound to get somewhere," he said.

"We have not one trunk road on the Island which tourists nowadays consider fit to drive over, although we have as fine roads as anywhere, considering the great area and the small population," said Mr. Hill, urging construction of one good road in preference to many bad highways. "To get results we must be one in our representations," he said.

President F. S. Cunliffe, replying, pointed out that only persistent action could attain attention by governments to demands for betterment. He told of the difficulties involved in attaining united action by the widely scattered districts of Vancouver Island.

President Cunliffe expressed to President Cheeke of the Malahat Board the warm appreciation of the delegates for the entertainment and provided.

President Cheeke proposed the toast of the Ladies, and J. H. Sladen of Alberni responded in humorous vein.

WEST COAST GROWTH

J. R. Motion of Alberni, dealt with the magnitude of development now in progress on the West Coast, the benefits to Victoria when the Canadian National Railway is extended to the Alberni Canal where many thriving industries operate. Mr. Motion urged that terminal rates given Alberni fish should also be permitted inland lumber shipments to points East of Moose Jaw.

Other speakers included W. T. McCulloch of Duncan, G. Hutchinson of Esquimalt, S. S. Shaw of Nanaimo (Malahat), A. Leighton of Nanaimo, M. W. J. Bruce of Saanich, and C. P. W. Schwenger of Victoria, the latter making an appeal for support of highway construction on the West Coast.

to serve districts settled for sixty years and paying heavy provincial taxation. The programme of entertainment included musical numbers by A. Leighton, recitations by H. G. Grainger. The function concluded with cheers for the Malahat Board of Trade.

TRIBUTE PAID

Before the proceedings of the Convention of Island Boards of Trade opened last night at Cobble Hill, President F. S. Cunliffe and a large number of delegates paid a visit to the War Memorial to Great War Veterans. After placing a spray of lilies on the monument, President Cunliffe and the delegates paid a silent tribute to the heroic dead.

CANADIAN CHAMBER SECRETARY SPEAKS

W. McL. Clarke Visits Associated Board's Convention

Vigorous National Sentiment Is Aim of Dominion Board

The Associated Boards of Trade of Vancouver Island opened their annual convention at Cobble Hill last night. President F. S. Cunliffe in the chair, and delegates from the following boards in attendance: Alberni, Cumberland, Duncan, Esquimalt, Malahat, Nanaimo, Port Alberni, Sidney, Saanich, Victoria and Qualicum Beach.

Secretary W. McL. Clarke of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce addressed the convention, pointing out that the objective of that organization is the promotion of a vigorous national sentiment.

He contended that local or industrial problems should not obscure the need of a national organization, a body able to make representations to the Government of the Dominion on behalf of the industrial and business life of Canada.

"Up to now there has not been any body qualified to say, 'This is the opinion of the businessmen of Canada,'" he said, believing that function can be performed by the Canadian Chamber of Commerce.

He showed that general support had been experienced in the six months since organization. The plan of operation contemplates placing before the membership a series of full arguments for and against all proposals under public consideration.

Mr. Clarke told of rejuvenation of moribund boards of trade and organization of new bodies in centres where good results could be foreseen, as a result of the active work of the Canadian Chamber.

The speaker touched upon the service work in developing export and inter-provincial trade, the attraction of tourists to the province, and the bringing together of agricultural and manufacturing interests. Pointing out that such activities must be of gradual development, he declared that the leaders of the Canadian Chamber are among the most enthusiastic advocates of a greater Canada, development of the country industrially and commercially and growth of a spirit of national confidence.

W. E. Payne of the Vancouver Board of Trade brought greetings from his organization.

TO KEEP ABEAST

The Saanich Board of Trade suggested that all boards send to all other boards copies of the agenda of meetings. This was proposed to keep all abreast with the interests of all districts.

The Qualicum Beach Board of Trade was admitted to affiliation. President Cunliffe said that the Courtenay-Comox Board of Trade would not be represented at the convention, but had extended an invitation to the convention to visit Courtenay next year.

LECTURE TO-NIGHT AT NEW THOUGHT TEMPLE

Dr. A. F. Barton will deliver a lecture at the New Thought Temple at 10 o'clock on "Self Help Through Applied Psychology."

"We must achieve and make a success of this life. That is why we are here," said Dr. Barton.

"Outward achievement reflects our inward virtues. Successful achievement is valuable, although the achievement itself is of very little real worth, because it is based on will, steadfastness, imagination, persistence, perseverance, patience and so on. The principal value of achievement is that it is a self-discipline, self-conquest, self-help. He who learns to govern himself is fit to govern a kingdom; but he who does not learn to govern himself is not fit to govern anyone, and life generally seems to him that he does not get the chance."

For those who are seeking a way of escape from everyday problems, applied psychology offers such a way and its study enriches the mind and body of every student."

CITY BROADCASTS OFF UNTIL FALL

Twenty-two Speakers Were Heard on Civic Series Over CFCT

The city's programme of weekly radio broadcasts has been terminated for the balance of the summer to resume in September. It was announced to-day.

Twenty-two speakers were heard in the series, which began February 15 and closed July 14. Mayor J. C. Pendry and every member of the council spoke during the series, the aldermen dealing with the work of the committee of which they were the members. In addition to Mayor Pendry, speakers were heard from the City Treasurer, the City Zoning Engineer, the City Industrial Adviser and the City Wiring Inspector.

During the jubilee preparations the city placed its radio time at the disposal of the Diamond Jubilee Committee, speakers taking advantage of the opportunity to advance the city's activities. These included Reginald O. Hayward, M.P.P., chairman of the committee; W. T. Straith, vice-chairman; Mrs. C. F. Hill, William M. Ivel, C. J. Macdonald and others who spoke on the local plans as well as the national features of the programme.

In council circles Mayor Pendry spoke on industrial development; Alderman W. L. Marchant, public works; Alderman E. S. Woodward, city water supply; Alderman John Harvey, parks and playgrounds; Alderman P. Brown, industrial operations; Alderman J. B. Clearhouse, civic law; making; Alderman A. O. Litchfield, city light services; Alderman J. L. Mara, city fire protection; Alderman James Adam, organized athletics, and Alderman H. C. Holmes, on Victoria as a grain port.

Edwin C. Smith dealt with Victoria's system of taxation, including the new zoning provisions. Sidney L. Will, president of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce, spoke on the industrial research. J. H. Doughty-Davies explained the new zoning provisions. The British Columbia Chamber of Commerce, including the system of the prepaid tax plan. Roger D. Pinneo spoke on industrial research.

Local Rotarians Are Entertained In Port Angeles

The Rotary Club of Port Angeles to-day entertained members of the local Rotary organization and their ladies.

The Victoria party left the city this morning on the Ss. Sol Duc, arriving on the other shore shortly after 11 o'clock. A varied programme was arranged by the U.S. Rotarians, including an automobile drive to Lake Crescent. The local contingent will arrive back this evening.

"Do you think early rising is good for your health?" asked the languid city visitor.

"I don't know about my health," replied a woman, "but next to rain and fertilizer, it's the best thing there is for crops."

FERDINAND DIES AND MICHAEL BECOMES ROUMANIAN KING

and the loyal was what he remained to his own people.

It was Ferdinand's great will, say those who knew him, that put death off for so long a time.

HELD TO TASK

Last year, just after Queen Marie's hurried return from her visit to the United States, his physicians gave him up for lost. But the king was firm in the hope that he might survive.

His country on a stable political basis despite factional disputes and conflicts among powerful interests and clung to life. Then, too, say friends, he hoped to see once more his wife and his wayward son, Carol, the madcap of the Balkans, whom his parental discipline had sent into exile.

His physicians urged him to give up the chance of a cure, but he refused to accept a chance to assist his own healing efforts, but dynastic and political elements played their part and Ferdinand decided to remain in Bucharest, despite his own knowledge that he was sacrificing his country.

For months King Ferdinand's body, assailed by many maladies, had been withering away and his weight was reduced to less than 100 pounds.

FORMATION OF CABINET

One of the last acts of Ferdinand's reign was the creation of a government under the Bratianu, whom he trusted and who, with him, was influential in swinging Rumania into the World War on the side of the Allies—an act in which Ferdinand flung himself, sacrificing his own kin, for he was a Hohenzollern.

POSITION OF CAROL

Those who know Rumania are quite unanimous in the conviction that the regency for young Prince Michael, Carol's son, will rule as provided by law and that there is almost no possibility of Carol ascending the throne. His friends in Rumania are few and far between, and he is almost sure not to be strong enough to impose him upon the country. Nor has there been any indication that Carol cares to come back home. That he is not wealthy and that he does not live as everyone knows, but that he has sufficient sources of income to live a leisured life near Paris is obvious to all who have observed his coming and going.

He is not the French capital. To all appearances he is quite content with things as they are.

The Bratianus and their party candidates, now, are solidly opposed to Carol, as is Prince Stirbey, who with them forms a little group of the richest and most powerful men in Rumania, politically and economically.

CAROL IN FRANCE

Paris, July 20.—Former Crown Prince Carol of Rumania, who left his wife near here Thursday for a trip into the country, returned shortly before noon and was still at his home at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

No apparent preparations were being made at the villa this afternoon for a hurried departure and unless Carol leaves Paris by this evening, he will be attending the funeral of his father.

"His Royal Highness regrets he can not see you," a correspondent for the Associated Press was told by the maid who answered the door at the villa.

Only a few months ago this same maid had merely said: "Mr. Caraiman does not receive newspapermen."
